Plains Hit by Storms; Kansas Suffers Floods

Youth Killed by Lightning; Many Funnels Spotted

Stormy weather hit areas in the central and southern Plains today and floods forced hundreds of persons from their homes in central and eastern Kansas.

June's spell of severe weather — tornadoes, heavy rain, hail and strong winds — again hampered the Plains region six and possibly seven days Wednesday and Wednesday night.

Twisters struck areas in the Panhandle-Plains country of Texas, near North Platte, Neb., and Oberlin and Coldwater, Kan. Funnels clouds were spotted near Stover, Mo., south of Cheyenne, Wyo., and northwest of Palm Beach, Fla. No injuries were reported in the storms.

A 17-year-old youth was killed by lightning near Pecos, Tex. Five inches of rain fell in areas south of Pecos.

In Kansas, heavy rains from Wichita eastward to the Missouri border caused flooding of the Cottonwood, Neosho and other streams. The hub of the overflows appeared in the region west of Emporia where the Cottonwood flows into the Neosho. Flash flooding was reported in some areas.

The Weather Bureau said more heavy rain may hit areas in Kansas as storms appeared headed from Wyoming and Nebraska.

With one sweep, command pilot and father McDivitt picked his three children off the ground and into a big hug. Both men kissed and embraced their wives.

"We've traveled a lot of miles," McDivitt said. "I read in a newspaper on the ship it was something like 1,700,000. But the last 800 or 900 miles are the greatest."

"Today is my birthday," McDivitt told the some 500 people who had gathered to welcome him back to this astronaut base. "But I've never had anything like today." It's his 36th birthday.

Biggest Moment
"Being back in Houston, next to landing on the carrier, is the biggest moment of the flight," said White, the man who strolled in space for some 20 minutes shortly after blastoff last Thursday.

His blonde wife, Pat, wearing a white linen dress with a blue jacket, kissed him several times tenderly, and dabbed at an occasional tear in the corner of her eye.

After the brief greeting to the crowd, the heroes were led to a nearby lounge for a private chat with their families.

As McDivitt, still dressed in a light blue flight suit and canvas shoes walked off, his youngest son, Patrick, begged: "Daddy carry me, carry me." "Sure I'll carry you, son," McDivitt answered swinging the boy in his arms.

White walked away, one arm around his wife's waist and the other hugging Eddie, 11, his son. Mrs. McDivitt was dressed in a simple yellow sheath.

The blue and white executive jet aircraft brought the twin astronauts here at 11:46 a.m. — after a flight from Mayport, Fla., where the astronauts debarked from the aircraft carrier Wasp, shortly after 8 a.m.

Strike Stated Tuesday

Officials in Urgent Try For Shipping Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — Representatives of 12 shipping lines and a marine engineers union met today at the request of the Johnson administration to try to avert a shipping strike next Tuesday.

James J. Reynolds, assistant secretary of labor, asked both sides Wednesday to reopen contract negotiations "in the national interest," according to Ralph E. Casey, president of the American Merchant Marine Institute.

The Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, AFL-CIO, threatened to strike unless a new contract is reached before the current one expires Tuesday.

Talks broke up last week when Jesse Calhoun, union president, allegedly kicked a shipping line negotiator in the face during a heated bargaining session.

Calhoun is on parole on felonious assault charges awaiting a court hearing.

A union spokesman said Calhoun would be present.

The union, which has a two-year contract, is seeking a four-year pact. Also under discussion, indicating some new cars are pension and welfare benefits have tires inadequate to carry their designed load.

Nelson said some station wagon owners have been told by Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. that they should have 8-ply tires. Yet most new station wagons have only 2-ply tires "with a 4-ply rating," Nelson said.

Nelson's tire safety bill would ban the sale of tires judged unsafe and would require all tires to be graded and labeled.

Reinforcements Cut Down By Machine Guns as They Jump From Helicopters

SAIGON, South Viet Nam were at Dong Xoai when the (AP) — A curtain of machine-attack began Wednesday. They gun fire cut down Vietnamese reinforcements today as they jumped from helicopters at tal offensive by the Communists. Dong Xoai, a district capital during a day of bloody battle, overrun by 1,500 Viet Cong. All Huge columns of fire and the 21 Americans were listed as dead, missing or wounded.

A U.S. military spokesman said the losses at Dong Xoai, 60 miles north of Saigon, were the heaviest suffered by the United States in a single engagement of the Vietnamese war.

Casualty Reports
The casualty reports varied. Official reports said one of the Americans definitely was killed, six and possibly seven were missing and 13 wounded.

But at Phuoc Vinh, an advance command post from which reinforcements were being dispatched by helicopter, officers said that all living Americans — only nine wounded — had been evacuated.

In Washington, the State Department said its latest figures were seven Americans dead and 13 wounded.

First reports from the battle area said 14 Americans were killed and at least 13 wounded. Some of the American casualties were believed to be Navy Seabees at a Special Forces camp. They were constructing an air strip. This might account for discrepancies in the casualty figures.

Camp Abandoned
The camp has been abandoned and survivors fled to a district compound. Hard-pressed government troops were holed up there as the battle raged on this afternoon. Vietnamese casualties were staggering and still mounting. About 400 Vietnamese soldiers

PHUOC VINH, South Viet Nam, (AP) — "This is a dangerous gamble. If it fails, I will resign my commission," Brig. Gen. Cao Van Vien said, as he watched his ranger battalion climbing into about 60 U.S. helicopters.

The 52nd Vietnamese Ranger Battalion was going into the hell of Dong Xoai 17 minutes away, if it could get there. It stood a good chance of being wiped out the moment it hit the ground.

During the night a force of about 1,500 powerfully equipped Viet Cong had attacked Dong Xoai with the full brunt of a regimental offensive.

Of the 21 Americans at a camp a mile away from Dong Xoai, everyone became a casualty by this morning. Official reports listed one of the Americans definitely killed, six and possibly seven missing and 13 wounded.

At this advance command post however, officers said that all living Americans — nine of them — had been evacuated.

Vietnamese casualties during the night's Viet Cong onslaught are believed to be staggering. There were about 400 Vietnamese troops at Dong Xoai when the attack began.

It was a day of bloody battle and huge columns of fire and clouds of smoke stood over Dong Xoai at nightfall.

Three hours after sunrise today a relief battalion, about 400 Vietnamese army troops, landed by helicopter at an airstrip near the embattled town and was cut to pieces.

There was no indication how many were killed or wounded but the soldiers were dropping as they took a few steps from the helicopters.

Zaborski's committee, as a starting point will have before it two resolutions, at opposite poles of the debate over Viet Nam policy.

One resolution, declares the convention, will "support the determination of the President of the United States to accept center for the Organization of the challenge to stay in Viet Nam, to win the war, and to win the ensuing peace."

The other calls for United Nations action in Viet Nam, deploring American bombings, and asks for "genuine unconditional negotiations leading to ultimate military withdrawal."

Superstition Delays Work On Ghana Job

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Superstition aroused by a rash of construction deaths delayed work this week on a conference center for the Organization of African Unity in Accra.

President Kwame Nkrumah's government hopes to have the group of buildings — including an 11-story hotel — completed for an OAU summit meeting in September.

But the center is on the site of an old burial ground.

Its construction has caused diversion of a creek which the local Ga Tribe believes is sacred to their god of war, the Dadebo.

At least 22 workers, and possibly 29, have been killed in a series of construction accidents.

Burglar Prefers Arrest to Death

Place to Begin Anew
Easily Started Narcotics
Habit Ended at Lexington

An AP Special Report
BY BOB COOPER
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — There are thousands of ways and thousands of places a person can start the narcotics habit. This is where he may end it.

When John Doe, a dope addict, steps inside the gate at the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital, it can be the end and the beginning for him.

First stop is the admission suite, where the new patient is given a physical examination and gives his medical history. The doctors find out what kind of drugs he has been taking, where he got them and how much he has consumed.

Withdrawal Problems
The time needed to get the patient off drugs usually ranges from four to 12 days. During that time, he gets smaller and smaller doses of methadone, a synthetic drug that helps relieve withdrawal symptoms.

"We let them down reason-ably easy. They are uncomfor-table, complain a lot, don't eat much and don't rest well, but it is a very humane method," Dr. Robert W. Razor, medical officer in charge of the hospital, said.

"Many patients don't have a heavy habit — because drugs are getting harder to get and because most drugs have been re-duced 10 to 20 times before they come into the user's hands," he added.

Most prisoner patients don't need the withdrawal phase. They have undergone what they call "cold turkey" — the nerve-shattering complete withdrawal without aid, in jail.

The hospital likes to keep vol-untary patients up to six months to get them ready to face the world again without returning to the habit.

Prisoner patients most often stay longer because of a law that requires a mandatory five-year sentence, without parole, for possession of narcotics.

"After withdrawal, they usu-ally start getting their appeti-tes back and rest easier," Dr. Razor said. "Then we move them into the convalescent ward for about a week before starting the orientation program."

Every patient at the hospital is put to work. And he gets the chance to learn to play again.

"This is the essence of the program," Dr. Razor said. "Voluntary patients can leave any time they want. Razor said, 'For this reason, about two-thirds of the patients in the hos-pital at any one time are prison-ers, but more than half of the admissions are voluntary.'"

The hospital, which accepted its first patients May 29, 1935, averages 1,035 patients at a time. The other Public Health Service hospital, at Ft. Worth, Tex., opened a few years later.

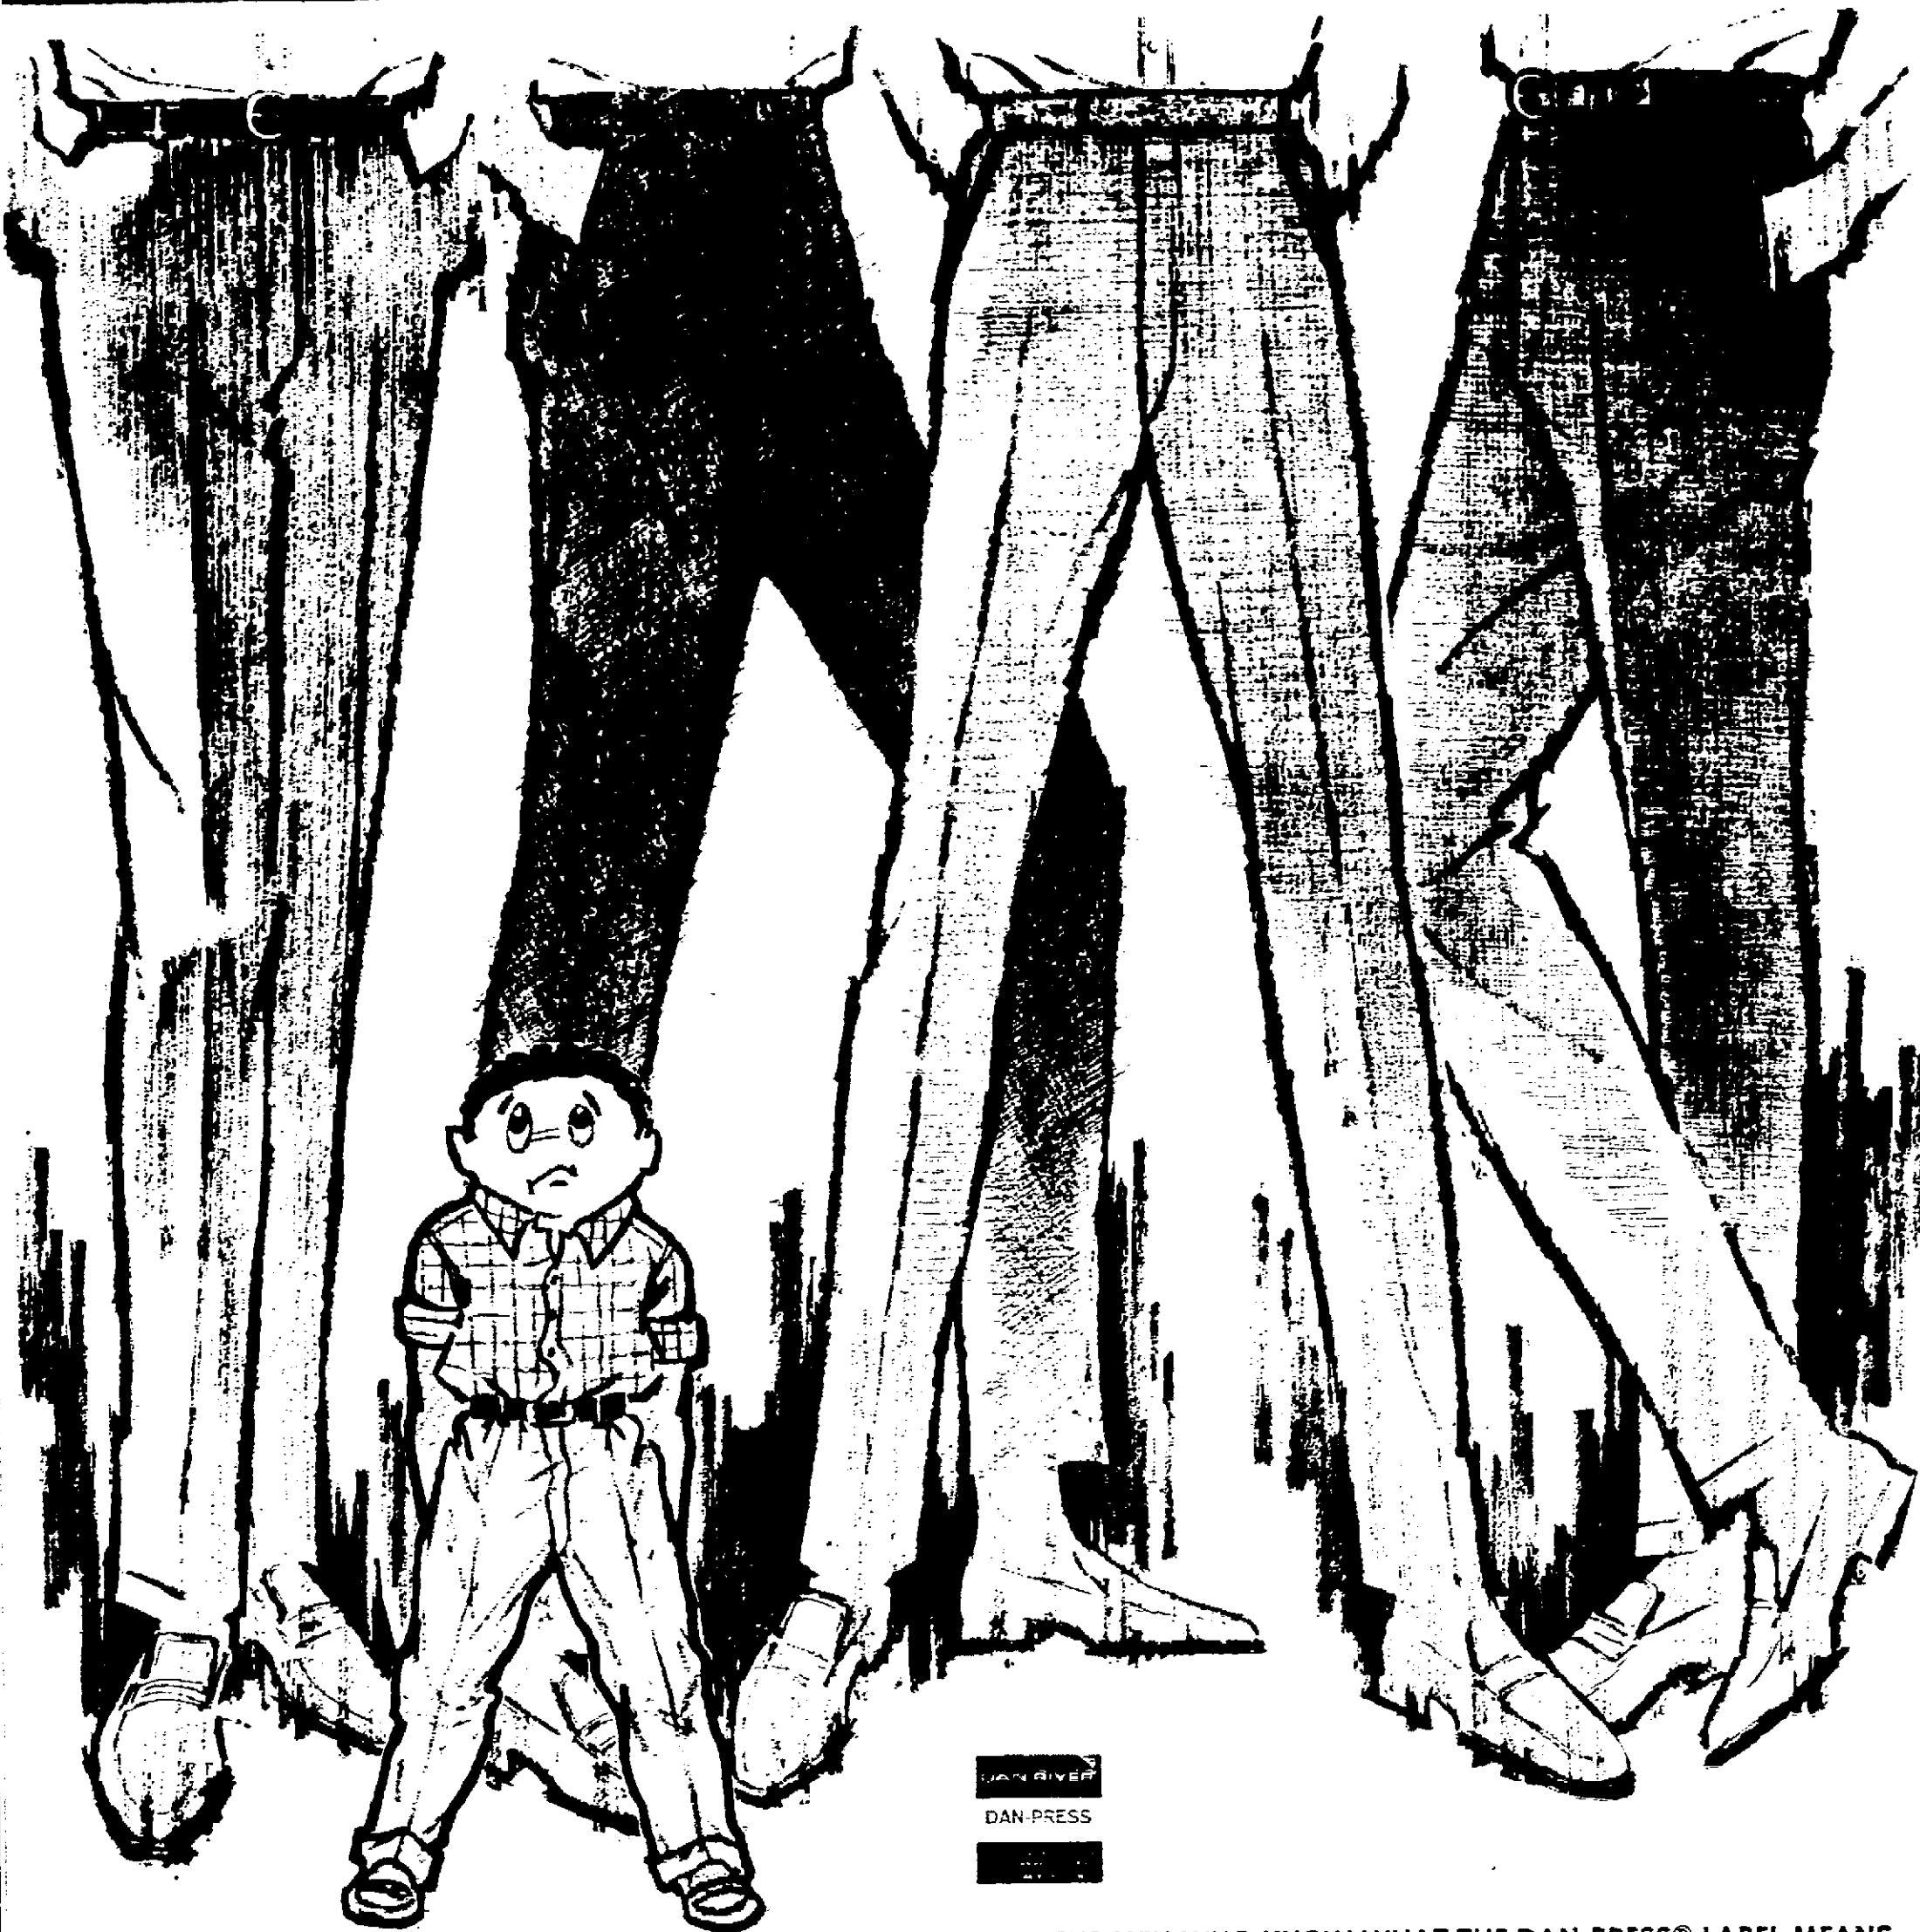

Razor and other medical offi-cers hope for two improvements in their program — indetermi-nate sentences for prisoners and a better type of care after re-lease. Congressional action is needed for both.

The indeterminate sentence would allow doctors to release patients when they are ready to go home.

The postinstitutional care pro-gram would ease the transition from a drug-free hospital to a world where you can get dope if you've got the money and the inclination.

Fond du Lac Man Named Firm Trustee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Joseph Koll of Fond du Lac was appointed in federal court Tuesday as trustee for the bankrupt Full Cream Cheese Factory, Inc., of Fond du Lac and instructed to make an attempt to pay dividends to creditors with the $23,500 the firm has on hand.

Koll was named by Howard W. Hilgendorf, referee in bankruptcy, at the first meeting of creditors after A. F. Baus, president of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of New Holstein, declined to serve. Baus had been receiver for the firm which was judged bankrupt on May 20.

The factory originally had filed a petition for reorganization in April, 1963, listing $224,619 in debts and $193,137 in assets.

LeRoy A. Sommers, who had been a partner in the firm with children tested may call the district administrator's office for an appointment.

Lawrence Seniors To Get Reserve Commissions

Seven Lawrence University senior men will receive second lieutenant commissions, six in the United States Air Force Reserve and one in the U.S. Marine Reserve during exercises at 9 a.m. Sunday on the lawn in front of Main Hall.

Topping the group of Air Force men to be commissioned is distinguished graduate Robert Leadbitter, Andover, Mass. Other candidates are G. Jeffrey Cook, Schenectady, N.Y.; Donald Gurney, Glen Ellyn, Ill.; James Lynum, Minneapolis; Timothy Noble, New Canaan, Conn.; and Steven Wickland, Lantana, Fla. Leadbitter and Lynum will be going into pilot training.

John Harwood Webster, Groves, Mo., will receive the Marine Reserve Commission.

Cong Turns Leisurely Journey Into Bloody Battle

Drive to Sea Fails at Quang Ngai; Government Troopers Killed

NOTE — A reinforcement (AP) — The Vietnamese troops of the 1st Cong regiment joked casually among themselves as they set out for a road to the south. They were the largest Red force since the French-Communist war. Thanks to U.S. An hour later most of them were dead in the opening battle for Quang Ngai, one of the bloodiest in the war.

Nearly 200 government troops suffered casualties but still were still missing days after the battle. The Viet Cong suffered about 600 casualties by American count.

WHEELER — South Viet Nam The carefree company of the 51st Regiment's 1st Battalion was swinging down the road when a hail of fire broke across it. At the same time a second company of the same battalion was hit at a security post farther down the road.

Lead elements of a Viet Cong reinforced regiment had struck. The outnumbered government troops sent a desperate call to the Ba Gia outpost for help. A third company was dispatched quickly. It also was ground up in fire from carefully prepared ambush sites.

Cane Field Three Americans with the battalion managed to slip into a cane field. They reached safety one day later.

The final Vietnamese company that started to the rescue also was hit by the Viet Cong and retreated to Ba Gia. They withstood nine attacks in the next few hours.

In Quang Ngai, capital of Quang Ngai Province, frantic radio calls sent government and American officers into action.

They knew that an expected Viet Cong push was under way. One battalion was already wiped out.

The 39th Rangers, the 3rd Vietnamese Marine Battalion and the 2nd Battalion of the 51st Regiment launched a counter-offensive Sunday.

As troops pushed from Quang Ngai toward Ba Gia, heavy rain clouds hung overhead, preventing U.S. jets and Vietnamese Skyraiders from giving fully effective air cover.

Late in the afternoon the Viet Cong hit, surrounding the marines and rangers. A U.S. adviser, Capt. Christopher J.

O'Sullivan, 28, of Astoria, N.Y., was killed in the opening volley.

The fighting raged all Sunday night. The rangers were cut into three segments by repeated attacks. A second American,

Marine Sgt. Willie D. Tryone, 33, of Abilene, Tex., was hit, but continued to fight.

Fear Assaults

In four assaults the main ranger group, including the U.S. Marine, captured a hill three miles east of Ba Gia. There they dug in.

Powerful Viet Cong units attacked the hill and overwhelmed the rangers.

Tyrone was dead. In his final radio call to headquarters in Quang Ngai he reported "Our position is being overrun."

Minutes later the guns fell silent.

Vietnamese marines who survived the attack sat in a ditch, tending some 60 wounded.

On their flank, 80 rangers remained alive.

American jets, despite dangerously low clouds, smashed at the Viet Cong. They probably were the key factor in blunting the Communist attack. At least the air raids gave government forces time to regroup and reinforce. And by that time the Viet Cong offensive was through and Communist troops began pulling away.

Many of the slain rangers appeared to have been killed in cold blood after being wounded. A practice followed at times by both sides.

Captured documents showed the Viet Cong planned to take Quang Ngai town after smashing as many government battalions as possible. They never reached the town.

Both Vietnamese and American senior officers believe that, since government troops outnumbered the Viet Cong by a substantial margin, the enemy was hurt far more than the government by the Ba Gia casualties.

Major Viet Nam Action A Delight for Women

BY HAL BOYLE

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — It was a tense moment for all.

Artillery boomed in the distance. Warplanes roared off on missions perilous to many.

At the edge of the great air base here, just outside the main security checkpoint, hundreds of men stood in sweating anxiety outside a large white-painted building.

In the dense throng were air-men just back from bombing and strafing North Viet Nam. There were dust-caked Marines, worn by days of patrol on mountain top and across rice paddies.

There also were clerks and bakers and mechanics and demolition men and beret-capped Army officers who had journeyed in from lonely outposts for "the big operation."

A murmur ran through weary men.

"What the hell is holding this thing up?"

Inside the big building, Marine Lt. George F. Hoffman of Johnstown, Pa., was just as tense. He knew the beleaguering force outside couldn't be held at bay much longer.

He gave a final inspection to his 60 Vietnamese and American assistants. He looked at his watch. It was 11 o'clock—zero hour.

"All right, let 'em in," said Hoffman.

The doors swung open—and the great breakthrough was under way.

The long-awaited opening of the Navy Post Exchange at Da Nang had taken place.

Troops milled and rushed pell-mell from counter to counter, buying everything they saw.

It was like the opening of a huge supermarket back home.

The 70 cases of beer in stock were gone in five minutes. Some 2,000 cases of soda and soft drinks went quickly, too.

"We've got 30,000 cases of beer on the way from the States," a sergeant told foiled and thirsty customers.

Lucky first comers staggered out of the $100,000 warehouse burdened with cameras, watches, tape recorders, deodorants, film packs, clothing, and $28.15 portable refrigerators and small electric fans.

Scores of Marines and air-men, unable to enter the packed building, left after long waiting. When the doors finally closed, some 7,000 men had spent $31,000.

"Soon we'll have a million-dollar-a-month operation here," said Lt. Hoffman, who also will open five field post exchanges in the five northern provinces that make up the 1st Corps area in South Viet Nam.

Goodbye Beer
"We're putting in a 10-chair barber shop, and have plans for a cafeteria, too. We'll be bigger than Saigon."

"They ought to give a combat ribbon to those who made the first wave into this PX—it wasn't easy."

Keep Purchase Record For Excise Tax Return

BY SYLVIA PORTER

If you have bought a new car or new air conditioner after May 14 or if you buy either big-ticket item before July 1 — without any price cuts to reflect the imminent excise tax reductions — be sure that you:

(1) Have a sales slip or other record of the sale showing the date, brand, and model purchased, serial number, price manufacturer's tax on air conditioners will be wiped out.

If your dealer or manufacturer is willing to pass on the excise tax cuts to you — and they don't have to pass them on under the law — you will need this information to get reimbursement.

As the excise tax bill is rushing through Congress with astounding speed, confusion about what the bill actually means also is spreading through the U.S. with dizzying rapidity.

In briefest summary, the House-passed bill which the Senate Finance Committee is now debating in closed sessions would cut our excise taxes by about $4.8 billion a year.

Repealed completely as of July 1 would be the 10 per cent retailers' excise taxes on items ranging from jewelry and furs to cosmetics and luggage. Also repealed completely as of July 1 would be manufacturers' excise taxes on items ranging from household refrigerators and power lawn mowers to TV sets and typewriters. Substantially

(2) Check with your dealer to find out what procedure — if any — has been worked out to reimburse you for the amount with complete repeal scheduled by which the manufacturers' for Jan. 1, 1969. In the years excise tax is to be cut July 1, immediately ahead, virtually all on this date, the tax on autos excise taxes except those on will fall from today's 10 per cent to 7 per cent. Enough — additional details cent and the 10 per cent. Enough — additional details you can read in the news columns. What, then, will this bill mean to you?

You, the retail customer, will not be able to claim the benefits of any excise tax cut "as a matter of right," says Leon Gold, chief tax expert of the Research Institute of America.

You, the retailer or manufacturer, will not be required to pass on the benefits of excise tax cuts to your ultimate customers. The key point, in short, is as Gold emphasizes, that "price cuts resulting from these excise tax cuts will be much more a matter of business policy than tax law" — a vital aspect indeed.

Putting it even more plainly, manufacturers and retailers will be able to decide strictly as a matter of business policy whether to: retain present prices; cut them by more, less or by exactly the amount of the excise tax cut; make the price cuts now; wait.

Many of the price cuts which have been so widely publicized in advance of the excise tax reductions have been entirely motivated by business reasons.

Neither the retailers nor the manufacturers will get any tax credit or refund because of their price cuts on and after July 1 again will be primarily a matter of business policy.

Special conditions apply to autos and air conditioners; thus, the advice at the start of this column. On other items it will be up to buyers and sellers to negotiate price adjustments before July 1 — and after that date, price comparisons before and after the tax cuts will indicate what and where the bargains are.

Potential Actors, Singers Try For Summer Theater Parts

Most of them wore their talents shyly, though eagerly. Children from all over the city who have a yen for show business gathered Friday evening and Saturday morning at Morgan School for try-outs for the Appleton Recreation Department summer theater. This year's musical and dramatic offering will be 'Once Upon a Time,' or 'Rumpelstiltskin.'

Mrs. Anne Glasner is play director and Miss Kaaren Miles, choral director.

To them falls the task of choosing from among the hundreds who "want to be in the play." Fortunately there are many parts, both speaking and singing, but there are never enough to go around. Disappointments are part of the acting work world, as many an aspiring thespian is discovering.

Rehearsals for the production will begin June 21.

Terri and Patrick Long have a few words with Mrs. Glasner as they prepare to tryout for the ARD summer play. Above left, waiting their turns to read, are Jim

Decorated Baskets Serve Various Uses

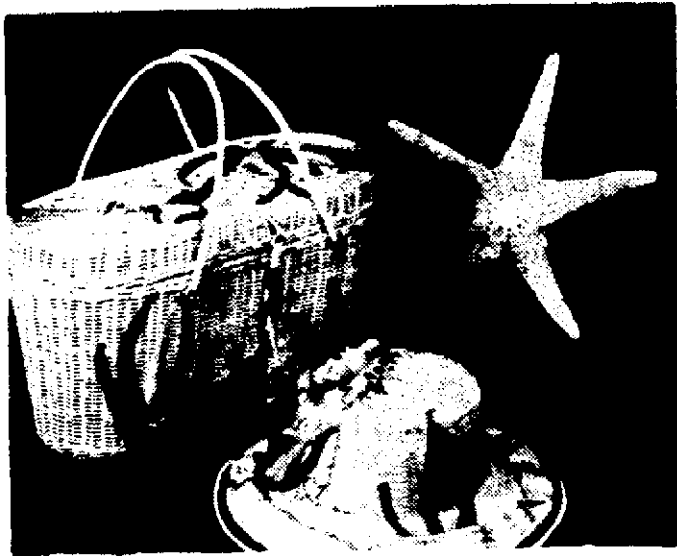

BY REBA AND BONNIE CHURCHILL

If you enjoy the hobby challenge of converting every-day items into one-of-a-kind pieces, then here's a basketful of ideas. These suggestions are for the ingenious artist, who doesn't limit a straw picnic basket, popcorn bowl or serving tray to its traditional function, but foresees it as a potential tote purse, wall decoration or table top.

Such beauty swaps are the result of imaginative designing, rather than costly ingredients. For example, stylist Kay Cantowine transforms a picnic hamper into a beach bag. Fully lined in water repellent plastic, the outside is left in its natural tone and merely brightened with felt appliques and shells. Suddenly, fabric finishes are seen swimming among an underwater setting of netting, coral and seaweed.

On the other side of the switch-about scene is the designer's sister, Betty Burris, who prefers to stain her carry-all bags in bronzy, wood hues. Once dry, she covers them in decoupage fashion with magazine photos. The vibrant, paper cutouts are snipped and overlapped, so that a face, a hand, a jewel or a magazine title is blended into a high fashion potpourri.

Another potpourri turns candy buckets, popcorn containers and flower sewing baskets into flower holders. Especially adaptable are the long-handled popcorn

Money is a main key to personal success and happiness. Parents must teach their children that by making an example of the allowance.

DEAR MR. J. B. P.: A healthy child obeys and respects his parents and copies their manners because he loves them and wants to treat them the way they treat him. And he learns at school because he enjoys finding out about a world that's bigger than his own horizons.

Fortunately for all parents who are poor and can't provide their children with many play toys and tools, including allow- ances, money doesn't buy love or respect.

A person who is taught that money is a main key to personal success and happiness becomes an empty individual if the money runs out. Surely you can't think so little of the important qualities that mark personal worth!

DEAR DR. JONES: I'd like to tell you of my own experience with bedwetting. I wet the bed until I was more than 12 years old. So you see, I know about the problem.

safety measure. When the queen of spades remained stubbornly out, South led a club to dummy's ace and returned a spade to try a finesse with the jack.

West took the queen of spades and a diamond trick, and South complained about his horrible luck. It never occurred to South that he had misplayed the hand.

South need not stake the slam on a finesse in spades. It would be equally sound to lead a club toward dummy and try a finesse with the queen. If this worked, South could discard a diamond on the ace of clubs and concede a spade.

Choice of Finesses

In other words, South has a choice of finessses. He must guess whether the spade finesse or the club finesse will work, and he must take that finesse. The question is: How does South tell without peeking which finesse will work?

There is no answer to the question. As the cards lie, both finessses will lose — but South is far from helpless. South should play to drop the missing honor in one of the black suits and keep in reserve a finesse in the other suit.

In this case South should lead out the ace and king of spades to see if the queen drops. When the queen does drop, South has no further problem. If the queen did not drop, South would try the club finesse, thus getting

Your Problems

Ann's Husband Says He's Not In Condition for Brawling

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I thing wrong and am worried just read the letter signed "Frank" and I think your advice was the worst yet. Chicken.

It is a gentleman's place to protect his wife or his girl. When that drunk called Frank's wife a mopey, bow-legged broad he had every right to belt him one in the knicker. Your suggestion that Frank was a rough-neck and that he and his wife should have left the restaurant was strictly for the birds.

Why don't you ask your husband what he would have done if somebody called you a mopey, bow-legged broad? — More Than Frank

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was very much interested in your warning to the girl who wrote about kissing a boy who had a sore on his lip.

The girl was concerned about lip cancer. You told her (and correctly) that lip cancer was not nearly so deadly as another disease which could be contracted from kissing. Then you demonstrated great courage and named the real threat — syphilis.

Small sores on the lip or mouth are often not noticeable. So many teenagers have skin problems that most eruptions are passed off as "adolescent blossoms." I believe you would perform an invaluable service if you printed more information on this subject.

What does a syphilis sore look like? If a girl discovers after she has kissed a boy that he has a sore on his lip, would applying alcohol to her own lips protect her against the disease?

If a person thinks he has a venereal disease and is afraid to tell his parents what should he do? I am a high school senior and must confess shameful ignorance on this subject. My friends don't know any more than I do. Most kids don't want to talk about venereal disease because somebody might get sheet.

the idea they have done something wrong and are worried. Please print my letter and give us kids some facts — Chicken

Landers

Dear Chicken: The number of reported cases of VD in this country has tripled in the last 10 years. Almost 60 per cent of the cases are in the 13- to 19-year-old group. If this isn't a serious social problem I don't know what one is.

A syphilis sore resembles a cold sore. It can appear on the lip, in the mouth or anywhere on the surface of the skin. It often itches and it's different from most sores because it is very slow to heal. And this is the clue. If you have a sore that is stubborn about disappearing it is a danger signal.

Wiping your lips with alcohol is no protection against syphilis if you have a small crack on your lip. It is likely that the germ has already moved into your blood stream.

Anyone who suspects he has a venereal disease should do either of two things at once:

(1) Go to a physician. I know of no doctor who would tell your wife is if you asked him not to. The treatment is simple, painless and relatively inexpensive.

(2) Go to the city or county

Rolled Cookies

Note to new cooks: when you try your hand at rolled cookies — and they are really fun to make — roll out only a little of the dough at one time so you can manage it. A small sheet of dough is much less likely to get sticky than is a large because somebody might get sheet.

health department and ask for a VD test. In most cities both the test and treatment are free. The doctors will respect your confidence if you ask them to. Public Health officers are not interested in turning kids in or punishing them. They are interested only in treating and curing patients of this deadly disease, which, if not treated can cause blindness, sterility, insanity and death.

Do you lean on cigarettes as a social crutch? You may regret it later. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-Age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Republicans Pledge Support of Bliss

Goldwater Not Included on Guest List of $1 Million Fund Raising Dinners for New Party Chairman

BY JOHN F. WHEELER
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Key Republican leaders, with Barry Goldwater of Arizona absent, have pledged full support to their new party chairman in the hope he can unify them for another lunge at the White House in 1968.

Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential nominee, was not mentioned publicly Wednesday night as leading Republicans, guided by their best vote-getter of all time, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, urged the party to unite behind National Chairman Ray C. Bliss.

A party spokesman here said Goldwater was not invited to last night's series of dinners saluting Bliss in his home state.

Eisenhower and seven other Republicans, some of them presidential possibilities, soundly endorsed the call again and again.

"I salute this tireless, dedicated man on whose ability so much depends," said Eisenhower.

Nixon Enthusiastic
"Ray Bliss can lead the Republican party to victory across the nation in 1968 and 1972," declared former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

"He has full and complete support on anything he wants us to do," said Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

The hour-long television salute to Bliss was over closed-circuit television in eight major Ohio cities.

Party spokesman said more than 10,000 attended the $100-a-plate dinners, raising $1 million for the party. Viewers in a dozen other cities watched the series of five-minute speeches on commercial television.

Bliss, sharing the platform with Eisenhower and Gov. George Romney of Michigan at Cleveland, said he had no "secret cure-all potion" for the party, except hard work.

Speculation Moratorium
But Eisenhower termed him a man of political "professionalism unexcelled in either party."

Nixon, in his appeal for party unity, proposed a moratorium on 1968 presidential speculation until after the 1966 congressional elections.

"Our major problem now is to unite the party after the fateful division of 1964," Eisenhower also referred to the 1964 election, calling it "a crushing, nationwide, political defeat." He did not mention Goldwater by name.

Eisenhower urged the party to rally around Bliss to challenge the "lopsided political control" of the Democrats.

New Voting Machine Proposal Rejected by House Subcommittee

Assemblyman Calls Electronic Device Return to Paper Ballots

MADISON (AP) — After surviving many delays and obstacles in the Senate, a bill to allow Wisconsin municipalities to use electronic voting machines has received an unwelcome greeting from the Assembly Elections Committee.

Following a two-hour public hearing on the controversial proposal and with only brief discussion, the committee voted 6-1 Wednesday to recommend rejection.

The bill, which gives cities, towns and villages the option of using standard mechanical voting machines or the punch card devices, was passed by the Senate 17-12 on May 4. The action came only after a series of stormy debates prompted by repeated moves of opponents to stall consideration of the measure.

Attempt At Sabotage
During the hearing, Assemblyman Earl McEassy, R-Fond du Lac, called the bill a "bold, brazen attempt to sabotage and cut the heart out of the voting law passed by the 1963 Legislature."

McEassy was the leader of the 1963 bill that requires municipalities of more than 10,000 to use mechanical voting machines.

He questioned what might happen to ballots being carried from precincts to a central tabulating center. The electronic machines require that the punch cards be used to record the votes and be counted by an electronic computer.

McEassy said the punch card method would "weaken the election process" because it was a return to the paper ballot.

Assemblyman William Steiger, R-Oshkosh, the only committee member to vote against the recommendation for rejection, led off testimony for the bill.

He said the electronic machines are less costly and the bill provides "adequate safeguards" to protect the secrecy of the ballot. He added that fears of vote fraud or theft in transporting the ballots from precinct to a tabulating place were "unfounded fears."

"I don't say these machines are the panacea for elections," he said, "but I do think it would be wise for Wisconsin to allow their use."

Representatives of the city of Milwaukee, the League of Wisconsin Municipalities and the International Business Machines (IBM) also appeared in support of the proposal.

NATO Asked To Stop Arms To Portugal

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania, (AP) — The 13 nations of the U.N. Special Committee on Colonialism have drawn up a resolution calling on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to cut off arms supplies to Portugal.

Evidence submitted by petitioners to the committee confirms that Portugal is continuing to make use of NATO weapons against the African peoples of Angola, Mozambique and Portuguese Guinea, the resolution said.

It also requests the U.N. Security Council to impose sanctions against Portugal.

The countries submitting the resolution were Cambodia, Ethiopia, India, Iran, Iraq, Ivory Coast, Malagasy Republic, Mali, Sierra Leone, Syria, Tunisia, Tanzania and Yugoslavia.

The damage did not interfere with transmissions and there were no casualties.

New Concept in Aids

Private College Grants Gets Committee Okay

MADISON (AP) — A new concept in educational aids to colleges has been given the approval of the Assembly Education Committee.

The group voted 7-4 Wednesday to recommend adoption of a bill that would give qualified students grants to attend one of Wisconsin's private colleges, many of which are religiously affiliated.

The proposal recommended was a substitute amendment of the bill originally offered. The new version, prepared by Assemblyman Glen Pommerening, R-Wausau, would cost $1.4 million a biennium instead of $2.3 million.

Under terms of the bill approved by the committee, a state Commission of Higher Educational Aids would be created to administer the program. The grants, which would be awarded on the basis of need and academic standards, would vary from $50 to $250 a semester, depending on the parents' taxable income.

The private college tuition allowance must be more than $200 a semester to qualify.

Assemblyman David Martin, R-Neenah, said he was convinced that private schools in Wisconsin were in financial difficulties.

"It would be a sad day if these schools went under," he said.

Following the executive session, the committee held a public hearing on a bill that would allow a student to pay back only half of his state loan if he agreed to teach in Wisconsin for at least five years after graduation. Assemblyman Lewis Mittenness, D-Janesville, is the chief author of the proposal.

Bob Brown, an assistant dean of education at the University of Wisconsin, said from 33 to 50 per cent of graduates qualified to teach leave Wisconsin for jobs with better salaries in other states.

"This is an incentive to help the people we train so very well in our state universities to stay in Wisconsin and teach," Brown said.

"There is no question of subsidizing inferior teachers," he said, "because only students with good academic records are eligible to receive the loans."

Representatives of the state universities and the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education also appeared in favor of the proposal.

Rumor's Origin Sought Today by Stock Exchange

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Stock Exchange is looking into the origin of a rumor that made the stock market jittery.

The market went into a dive about midday Wednesday as unfounded reports circulated in Wall Street that President Johnson had suffered a heart attack.

Prices recovered somewhat when the rumor was put down as baseless. Prices fell sharply again as the session wore on and trading accelerated.

A spokesman for the exchange said: "A rumor of this sort could arise anywhere and, of course, the exchange is particularly concerned when it affects the market. Consequently, we are looking into it."

The market has been particularly sensitive to outside influences since it began its slide from the all-time peak of the popular averages May 14.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks slumped 9.21 points to 879.84. The Associated Press 60-stock average fell 13.2 to 320.5, its low for the year.

Of 1,387 issues traded, 911 declined and 237 advanced.

Volume soared to 7.11 million shares from 4.67 million Tuesday.

Beaches Banned as Sleeping Spot For Newport Jazz Festival Goers

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — A Commerce has called on both communities to reopen the time bomb named the Jazz Festival has citizens jittery in this famed old seaside resort.

The beaches were the best place to supervise those kids," says one Newport restaurant owner. "There was only one exit."

Frank Sinatra heads the list of entertainers set to shatter the solitude of the crickets on an old circus lot four nights starting July 1.

But with upwards of 45,000 young people expected to flock to this crowded island community, authorities have banned sleeping on the beaches.

In previous years thousands of college boys and girls, long on jazz but short on cash, have tossed sleeping bags on the sands of Newport and nearby Middletown.

Last year police drove the youths off second beach in Middletown when a few started to make bonfires with bathhouse doors during a long and drizzly night.

Zombies Prowl
Hundreds milled about the Newport streets like zombies trying to find a place to sack out.

Citizens still have vivid memories of the 1960 riots when youths fought with police in a long night of turmoil that ended with hundreds of arrests.

Some citizens in both communities claim the youths are more interested in sex than jazz. They say the "beaching" is just an excuse for a night of carousal.

However, almost everyone admits there just isn't enough hotel and rooming house space available even if the youths were willing to pay for accommodations.

George Wein, festival impresario, says the Sinatra concert scheduled Sunday night July 4 is more than half sold out. He says he scheduled Sinatra on the final night to encourage visitors to drive home rather than try to stay in the Newport area.

The local Junior Chamber of Commerce says it will accompany them.

Astronauts To be Lauded In Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II will receive academic honors when they are welcomed back from space Tuesday at the University of Michigan, the alma mater of both.

They also will ride in a motorcade through Ann Arbor and take part in a ribbon cutting ceremony at the university's new $1.7 million space research building on the north campus.

Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher, university president, did not indicate what academic honors would be accorded.

McDivitt and White received aeronautical engineering degrees at the university in 1959.

But Jackson, Mich., McDivitt's hometown, hopes to lure him away from Ann Arbor long enough Tuesday night for him to deliver the commencement address at Jackson Junior College, of which he also is a graduate.

Jackson gets McDivitt all day Wednesday and the college already has announced it will name a new building it plans this fall the McDivitt Hall of Science.

McDivitt and White are due to arrive with their families at Willow Run Airport near Detroit at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday from Chicago. Parents and wives of the two will accompany them.

Exiles Arrested For Shooting of Yugoslav Consul

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Two Yugoslav exiles have been arrested as suspects in the shooting and wounding of a Yugoslav consul, police reported today.

The police said they also had arrested Dara Rogic, 38, a Yugoslav waitress who was with the consul, Andrija Klaric, 35, when he was attacked Wednesday in a parked car by Lake Constance at Meersburg. She rolled out of the car and was not hurt.

The shooting undoubtedly had political motives, police said. The two exiles were described as natives of Croatia, a section of Yugoslavia where the Nazis set up a separate republic during the war.

Editors Who Saw Alabama Growth Look for Race Stories

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Their bama has been the victim of guided tour of Alabama what he calls distorted news cluded, out-of-state newsmen went out on their own today to seek more information about Alabama's racial problems.

They traveled from one end of the state to another during the three-day trip arranged by Gov. George C. Wallace and they saw striking evidence of Alabama's industrial and educational growth.

They had little chance to talk with Negro leaders about the troublesome image of the state which Wallace says has been unfairly portrayed.

The governor, contending Alabama's racial problems, visited newsmen might want to get more information without the presence of the official chaperons, who accompanied them for the first three days. So he agreed to send them wherever they chose to go today.

Some headed back to Selma, the birthplace of the 1965 civil rights struggle and the first stop on the tour. The newsmen were not able to talk with Negro leaders during their three-hour visit to Selma Monday.

Stick-on Plywood Edging

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN exposed to grease and oil. Ask Q: I'm building my wife a your paint dealer about this. coffee table, using one-half-inch plywood for the top, and a set of ready-made tapered legs. But I'm stumped as to how I can hide the edge's sandwich appearance, with all those layers. I'd like this to look like solid wood.

A: No problem at all. Plywood manufacturers make edging tape which you run along the edge. Some have their own adhesive backing, and with others you stick them on with contact cement. The tape is actually very thin plywood and is made in quite a few popular wood colors. Available at most hardware stores and dealers in building supplies, as well as hobby shops. With this edging, nobody will ever know the top is plywood: it will look thoroughly finished to protect it from outdoor exposure?

Q: Our concrete porch floor was apparently trowled much too smooth when it was put down, because it becomes very slippery whenever it gets soaked with rain. My parents are next coming to live with us, and I'm afraid of a spill. Any non-skid suggestions will be appreciated.

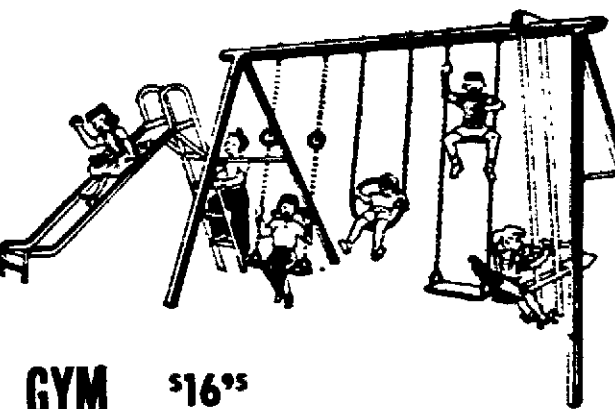

A: For a "natural" finish, use two or three thin coats of spar varnish or marine varnish, down, because it becomes very slippery whenever it gets soaked with rain. My parents are next coming to live with us, and I'm afraid of a spill. Any non-skid suggestions will be appreciated.

A: Next time you paint, cover the bottoms of the legs. You can also get a non-skid finish widely used in factories to guard against spills on floors decay.

Not Enough Attention Paid To Mid-East, Professor Says

Lawrence University Air Force Major Labels Area 'Explosive'

The Middle East is "one of the most critical and explosive areas in the world today and yet the American people don't pay much attention to it," Appleton Kiwanis Club was told Wednesday. Maj. Leigh Gisvold, professor of aerospace studies at Lawrence University, told Kiwanis the United States has attempted to keep Middle East nations either "pro-west" or at least "uncommitted" in the East-West conflict. A former member of the Air Force Office of Special Investigations (OSI), Gisvold served as OSI detachment commander in Izmir, Turkey, for several years before being assigned to Lawrence. He said the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) was one of the "great deterrent factors in the Middle East" and was politically, economically and militarily important for the area. National Security "Our national security is the most important reason for our being in the Middle East," he said. "We have given $3 billion in economic and military aid to Turkey since 1952." U.S. participation and funds have been a "worthwhile investment" he said. Gisvold said Turkey and Iran

Residents Seek Annexation to City of Appleton

A group of Grand Chute residents want to annex to the City of Appleton. The petition, signed by several real property owners in the 3000 block of N. Meade Street, was filed with the city's clerk's office here today. Several weeks ago Appleton officials contacted residents in the N. Meade Street area and asked them to consider annexing now while the city was preparing to take in a 95-acre tract of property it purchased in the township. City officials explained it would be to the advantage of the residents, and the city, to have municipal improvements installed at one time.

Buying Dictating Machine Giving Appleton Officials a Problem

Purchasing a dictating machine for the Appleton Police Department may give city officials a headache with international complications. Members of the common council's public safety committee worked themselves into a dilemma earlier in the week when they talked about boycotting equipment made in West Germany—the good side of the Iron Curtain. It seems the police department is in need of a dictating machine and transcriber for use by the detective bureau, and informal bids were obtained. Higher Priced The "catch" is that the Stenocord model, which the committee said was manufactured in West Germany and distributed here by Valley Business Equipment, was priced at $530. However, other top models manufactured by International Business Machines Corp. and Dictaphone Corp. were quoted at $835 and $827, respectively. Altogether, the committee received bids on seven different kinds of machines and narrowed the choice down to three. Aid. John Ayers (12th) told the committee its first decision should be whether a machine made in West Germany could qualify. "We could have trouble getting replacement parts," Ayers said. "Well, President Johnson says we shouldn't buy any more foreign whiskey," remarked Ald. Arthur Mueller (19th). "I wonder if this applies to foreign-made equipment." Gives Preference A spokesman for the police department said five different machines had been tried out in recent months and he indicated preference for the Dictaphone. A number of Dictaphone machines are reportedly now in use at the city hall. There appeared to be a consensus of opinion that a foreign machine be ruled out and preference given to American-made equipment. However, Mueller informed the committee there are many products being sold in the United States, having American brand names on them, but actually made in foreign lands. The question before the committee finally boiled down to whether it should discriminate against the West German machine.

North Central Asks CAB Okay To Suspend Service to Appleton After Outagamie Gives Directive

BY DICK LYNEIS Post-Crescent Staff Writer North Central Airlines today emphatically rejected Outagamie County's demands to serve the Fox Cities at the new county airport and, at the same time, asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to suspend service to Appleton completely.

The airline requested that the CAB authorize the suspension of service until after the 7th District United States Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago rules on an appeal by the State of Wisconsin and Outagamie County on last year's CAB order which designates the Winnebago County Airport in Oshkosh as the regional airport to serve Oshkosh and the Fox Cities. North Central's action came in response to an Outagamie County directive that it transfer service to the new Town of Greenville airport or be cited by the federal court for contempt of court. Outagamie County notified the airline that it was closing its old airport by 6 p.m. Monday on the authority of its ruling made last week by the court.

Today's action by the airline has thrown the whole dispute into a legal jumble. Question of Jurisdiction There now seems to be a question of which body has the jurisdiction on whether North Central is to provide Fox Cities flights and where — the federal court or the CAB? Bernard Sweet, North Central vice president, told the Post-Crescent today that the airline's actions are being taken on the basis of three choices given by

Outagamie Sets July 13 Hearing On Remapping

New Supervisor Districts Will be Discussed by Board

The Outagamie County Board's executive committee has set July 13 for a public hearing on a county board reapportionment plan. The executive committee, which has been drawing a reapportionment plan, has completed its studies and will recommend a proposal at Tuesday's county board meeting. The plan establishes 43 supervisory districts on the "one man-one vote" basis and will result in a reduction of 12 supervisors. The public hearing will be 10 a.m., Tuesday, July 13 during the regular county board meeting.

After the hearing the executive committee will recommend the county board adopt a reapportionment plan. Details of the plan and possible alternate plans will be thoroughly discussed at Tuesday's session. Discussion of the proposal is likely to give a strong indication on what chances it has for passage at the July session.

Top High School Band to Present Concert at FVL

Milwaukee Group On Nine-Day Tour In U. S., Canada

One of Milwaukee's top high school bands will present a concert at Fox Valley Lutheran High School at 8 p.m. Monday.

The Wisconsin Lutheran High School "Viking" Band will play in the Fox Cities as its second stop on a nine-day tour.

The WLHS musicians have received first division awards in Wisconsin School Music Association Class A competition for the past four years.

The band won first in the Horicon Marsh Days Parade (1964) and the Greenfield Fourth of July Parade (1964), has taken two seconds at the Wisconsin State Fair (1963, 1964) and was awarded a third in the Holiday Fair Parade (1964).

Circus Parade

The group also has the distinction, for the second year, of being the only high school band from the Milwaukee area to be selected for the "Day in Old Milwaukee" circus parade.

The tour will cover Wisconsin and Minnesota and Manitoba, Canada. Major highlight of the trip will be at the Red River Exhibition in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, where the band will compete in concert and marching competition and in a parade with bands from four other states.

The trip will cover 2,000 miles and take nine days. Milwaukee and Appleton are the only Wisconsin cities included.

The band is completing its eighth year. During this time it has grown from a beginners group of 20 to an outstanding unit numbering 130.

Wisconsin Lutheran High School is run by congregations of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod in the Milwaukee area. It is a sister school of Fox Valley Lutheran High School, and the bands of the two institutions participate each year in the state Lutheran high school band festival.

Appleton Warned of Holiday Pay Loopholes

Finance Director Hassler Says Wording Of Council's Policy Should Be Changed

Finance Director Donald E. Hassler said the non-working police officer would have eight hours listed on his check in the future misinterpretation of the overtime column—not 16 hours holiday pay policy adopted as someone may mistakenly believe by the common council.

Hassler told the council's personnel committee during a meeting at the city hall the wording of the new policy was such that "someone might start shooting holes through it."

"We know now what the intent of the common council is concerning holiday pay policy but there should be no loopholes that could lead to another misinterpretation a few years from now," Hassler declared.

Hassler noted the present policy states policemen will be paid two times their base pay on holidays which they do not work, and three times when they do.

"Let there be any misunderstanding," Hassler continued, "a policeman would not get double time if he doesn't work on a holiday because it is his regular day off."

years but somehow it was misinterpreted, probably because of the wording," Hassler remarked.

Hassler said it would be best to have a clear-cut clarification and spare his successor any future holiday pay problem.

3 Changes in Venetian Festival

NEENAH — MENASHA — Three changes have been made in the traditional format of the 12th annual Venetian Festival planned the July 4 weekend.

A Junior Chamber of Commerce festival committee, headed by Roger T. Reinemann, met Wednesday evening to re-line up its area and the common council recently.

He said he did not know of the State Bureau of Personnel prepared the pay plan, it was following pay plan procedure. This made a difference, according to the committee, which indicated it was taking regular employees and putting them in new job classifications.

Max Hensel, committee chairman, said the personnel group was following pay plan procedure. The committee also authorized hiring of a registered nurse for the home, filling a vacancy.

Power Pool Value Outlined For Utilities

Menasha, Kaukauna Currently Studying Program for Area

MENASHA — In many instances power pooling proves to be more beneficial to small power companies than to larger utilities, representatives of Wisconsin's municipally owned electric utilities were told Wednesday.

Donald E. Burroughs, executive engineer, R. W. Beck and Associates, Columbus, Neb., outlined the advantages of small utilities joining together in a power pool and also some of the problems to be faced in an address at the opening session of the 36th annual Municipal Electric Utilities of Wisconsin conference.

Growing interest The municipal utilities have expressed a growing interest in power pooling as a means of meeting rising costs and competition and a year ago set up a power pooling committee to study feasibility of setting up a pool among member utilities and possibly the REA and other private utilities.

Menasha and Kaukauna are currently studying the possibility of setting up a joint power pool.

Burroughs listed among the advantages of a power pool as a reduction in needed installed generating capacity, reduction in reserve requirements, reduction in spinning reserve, utilization of surplus capacity of one system, programmed expansion, reduction in likelihood of outages and a better selling point for the inducing industry into an area.

Burroughs said there also were some factors which could hinder the setting up of a power pool such as local laws prohibiting a utility from setting up lines outside its area and the common council recently.

He said he did not know of the State Bureau of Personnel prepared the pay plan, it was following pay plan procedure. This made a difference, according to the committee, which indicated it was taking regular employees and putting them in new job classifications.

Max Hensel, committee chairman, said the personnel group was following pay plan procedure. The committee also authorized hiring of a registered nurse for the home, filling a vacancy.

Classification Of City Home

Jobs Requested

Appleton Personnel Committee Seeks Salary Pay Scales

Several job reclassifications at Appleton's City Home were recommended by the personnel committee Thursday night at the urging of Welfare Director Merton Ehrlicke.

Changes adopted by the committee put all employees on a salaried, rather than hourly pay basis, Ehrlicke explained.

Nine reclassifications were approved by the committee, including those of four janitors to the positions of nurses aid at a monthly salary of $245. In making job reclassification, the committee in effect authorized some upward salary adjustments. However, they were lower than amounts listed on the new pay plan adopted by the common council recently.

Assumed to be Salaried The committee said that when the State Bureau of Personnel prepared the pay plan, it was following pay plan procedure. This made a difference, according to the committee, which indicated it was taking regular employees and putting them in new job classifications.

Max Hensel, committee chairman, said the personnel group was following pay plan procedure. The committee also authorized hiring of a registered nurse for the home, filling a vacancy.

Road Extension Wins Favor

Move Would Lengthen County A In Grand Chute

All persons appearing at a Public Service Commission (PSC) public hearing Tuesday regarding the Town of Grand Chute's request to extend Lyndale Drive (County Trunk A) south from Wisconsin Avenue across the railroad track to join with the existing Lyndale Drive favored the move.

Donald Herring, town attorney, said a representative of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad appeared at the hearing to present an estimate of the cost of constructing a crossing. Herring said the estimated cost was set at $3,315. He said the railroad was not opposed to extending the street across the railroad tracks.

Speaking at the hearing in favor of the extension were Walter Rasmussen, Appleton plan director; Eugene Franchett, director of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission; A. W. Ponath, Outagamie County corporation counsel; Thomas Thorson, Grand Chute town chairman, and representatives from Prange's Budget Store and the Farmers Cooperative Exchange.

Herring said he expects a decision from the PSC in about one month.

Assemblymen Ask Special Committee To Draft New Law

MADISON—Stating that "the established system of counties in Wisconsin does not necessarily reflect the needs of functional and efficient local administration in the second half of the 20th Century," Assemblyman William A. Steiger (R-Oshkosh) and two other Republicans introduced a bill to assist counties interested in government consolidation Wednesday.

The other authors were Thomas H. Barland of Eau Claire and Glen Pommerening of Wauwatosa.

The bill would create a special committee of the legislative Council to "promote interest in the study of county consolidation and to draft suggested legislation permitting interested counties to accomplish consolidation," Steiger said.

The resolution says "there is Learned, Appleton, will continue her training at the Appleton Adult and Vocational School.

a need for integrated services beyond, in many cases, the confines of the existing county boundaries, including administration of health services and planning of highways." Steiger said the bill "seeks ways and means of assistance if an when some counties want to consolidate."

State Issues Code Covering Building, Operation of Pools

BY CARL N. NEUPERT, M.D. assure that this recreation will be safe and sanitary.

Sunny skies and moderate temperatures, even if sporadic, are certain indicators that summer approaches. To a great many Wisconsin people the coming of summer means enjoyment of the sport of swimming.

As a step toward insuring continued improvement of bathing facilities, the State Board of Health in April adopted a comprehensive code covering the construction, reconstruction and operation of public bathing places. It is Chapter H 71 of the Wisconsin Code.

Engineers of the State Board of Health have been working with architects, engineers, contractors, swimming pool operators and others for a long time to determine what should be included in a truly comprehensive code. Regulations of other states and municipalities were checked. We are confident that Wisconsin's Chapter H 71 is one of the most modern set of rules governing public bathing places.

Three Classes
Public bathing places are grouped in three classes: natural lakes, ponds, rivers and streams; outdoor pools which are partly artificial and partly natural in character; and outdoor or indoor pools which are entirely of artificial construction. A public pool is one serving 10 or more individual residential quarters such as homes or apartments. Motels, hotels, country clubs and municipalities are, of course, in the public pool class.

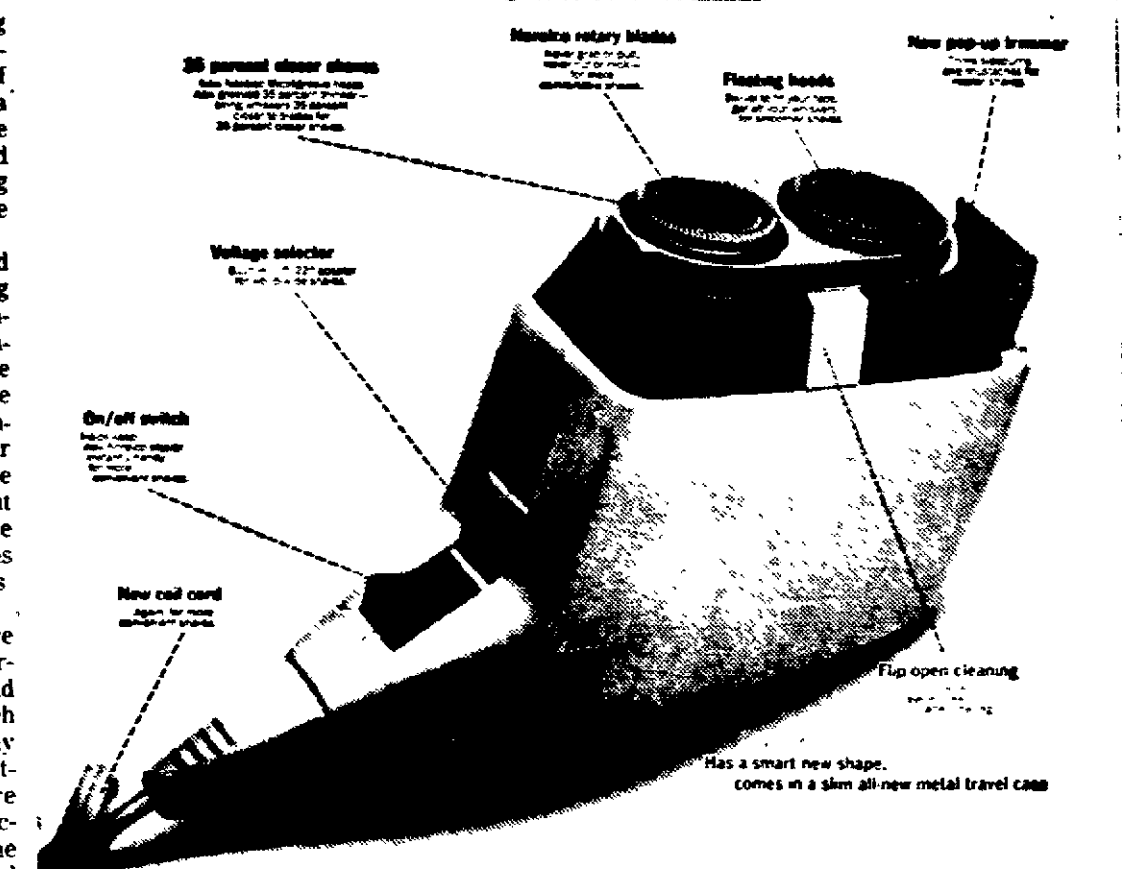

Chapter H 71 provides detailed specifications for the construction, equipping and design of pools and their appurtenances. There are, for instance, attendance rules giving the minimum square feet of pool area to be provided for each patron; there are diagrams indicating the depths and outflows of pools permissible for differing heights of diving boards. Every item of pool design is defined. The regulations, of course, do not affect existing facilities except when they are being renovated or repaired.

This is the first specific set of regulations issued in this state on public bathing facilities. The regulations may be added to by action of the governing boards of cities, villages or other municipalities.

Public pools and beaches provide enjoyable and healthful recreation. Construction and operation rules set up are to

Christopher Plummer Takes to London Stage

Actor to Play 'Peer Gynt' Despite His Agent's Reaction, Hollywood's Opinion

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Having well everywhere except in the United States, where it lacked a publicity campaign because Samuel Bronston ran out of money on the London stage.

"He's out of his mind," they would attack it because it would agree the wise crowd in Hollywood. They figure any actor with his sanity would consolidate an ascending career in films.

Plummer's agent received the news more violently.

"The veins distended in his temple," the actor recalled, "he sputtered and turned a shade of puce. He couldn't believe it."

Indeed, why would Plummer play Ibsen for a pittance when star-hungry studios would gladly pay him a six-figure salary to make a film?

Stage His Profession

"Because I was sitting at the beach feeling as if I were vegetating," he explained, "Peter Coe (the director) dropped in and suggested we do a play in London together. I just bought a house there I would like to see, with a Roman profile and an and he has a house in London, Elizabethan lust for life, could too. I had always wanted to do hang around and reap more reward. But he's off to London."

His agent still considers that where he makes his home "be Plummer is playing fast and cause it has the most exciting loose with his 90 per cent. But theater in the world."

2 Per Cent Rise Seen in Crime Rate in Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's crime rate for the first quarter of 1965 rose 2 per cent above the same 1964 quarter although the volume of big city crime stayed the same.

Reporting this Wednesday, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover noted that the more moderate increase in January-March of this year came on the heels of a sharp increase recorded in 1964.

Crime in the suburbs — paced by a 13 per cent increase in robberies and an 11 per cent increase in property theft — climbed 6 per cent over the 1964 quarter. Rural crime dropped 1 per cent with decreases in all but two categories — assault and rape.

Property thefts of $50 and less, but the picture was better more lead the upward trend than most of its kind," he said. "It was obviously handsome and authentic, much better than in the western states which 'Cleopatra' with its tacky costumes lead other regions with a 14 per cent crime increase.

"The Berkeley Rebels" an hour-long CBS News Special about University of California students who have focused national attention on the resurgence of political activism on campuses across the country, will be broadcast at 9 p.m. Monday, June 14, on the CBS Television Network. Two of the four participants in the special, filmed on location, are seen in this photo: Sally Leary (second from left) and Kate Coleman.

Courageous. "It takes person without outside help. Much of al courage to admit that you have been wrong. But this is the direction of growth and development. You realize how easy it is to do the things that are unworthy of you. . . But when you have done something that you are sorry about you admit it with regret. You do what you can to make amends for your unfortunate behavior. You face the future stronger in this particular area because you have admitted your weakness."

NOTICE RESIDENTS OF APPLETON VOLUNTARY TEST BAN ON OUTSIDE BURNING

The City of Appleton requests you to voluntarily:

1. Stop all outside burning during July, August and September, 1965.
2. Collect and store all material which you usually burn outside and place on the curb for pick-up by city crews on your regular rubbish collection day every other week.
3. Cooperate during this three month "no burning" period so that the city can study the effects of this test ban and determine what steps are necessary to provide the City with an orderly and convenient way to eventually eliminate all outside burning in Appleton.

This ban is placed on a voluntary basis to avoid causing undue hardship or inconvenience; however, your cooperation and patience will be appreciated.

If for reasons of fire safety, excessive accumulation or health hazard, it is not possible to save part or all of your burnable waste material, then it is permissible to burn outside providing burning is done according to the Fire Code Regulations explained below.

EXISTING BURNING REGULATION SUMMARY

HOURS—Between 7:00 P.M. and 7:00 P.M.
TYPE OF BURNER: All burners shall have their sides wholly or securely closed and covered with wire screening which shall not be smaller than No. 8 (Baltimore) in pattern wire. The wire mesh shall not be more than one inch apart.
LOCATION OF BURNER: No closer than 5 feet from a public sidewalk. No closer than 10 feet from trees, shrubs, bushes or fences. Not closer than 15 feet from any building.
DEFECTIVE BURNER: An approved type burner which becomes defective shall be replaced before burning can be resumed.
MATERIALS WHICH SHALL NOT BE BURNED: Garbage, organic (including animal waste), asphaltic, rubber or plastic material or other materials producing an offensive odor shall not be burned in residential districts.
OPEN FIRES: No open fires may be started without a permit from the Fire Department. No permit shall be granted for open burning in a public street, alley or other public thoroughfare.
COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL BURNING: To avoid violations, business and industrial establishments should check with the Fire Department for existing ordinances on burning.

ENFORCEMENT OF EXISTING BURNING REGULATIONS

The Fire and Police Departments shall enforce the Fire Prevention Code as follows:
1. City-wide inspections will be made regularly as the burning situation demands and all complaints will be investigated. Every effort shall be made to inform the residents of Appleton of the need for and the desirability of cooperating with the voluntary test ban as well as the regulations governing outside burning.
2. Any resident of the City found to be violating the burning ordinance will be issued a written warning for the first offense. He will be given seven days in which to correct this violation.
3. After this seven day period has expired a reinspection will be made to determine if the resident has complied with the regulation covering his offense. No further action will be taken if he has complied. If a violation still exists and the resident has continued to burn despite the warning, then a second ticket shall be issued and appropriate action taken to prosecute the violator.
4. A second complaint against a resident who has previously been issued a written warning shall result in his being issued a second ticket if a violation is again found to exist. This second ticket shall also result in appropriate action being taken to prosecute the offender.

Make a Cook-Out Bib for Toddlers in the Family

BY CAPPY DICK

Boys and girls who have small brothers or sisters will find today's fun-project useful. It calls for making a cook-out or picnic bib using simple things easily found in almost any home.

The materials are a paper napkin, two paper clips and a length of ribbon.

The ribbon should be just long enough to fit around the child's neck and hold the paper napkin high enough to provide good protection for his clothing.

Slip the clips over the corners of a paper napkin and put bib on the child as in Figure 2.

This bib will cut down on laundry work, which should make a hit with Mother. If you use a napkin that has a decoration of interest to a small child, such as the duck in Figure 2, the bib will make a hit with the baby, too.

Crowd Watches As Beekeeper Sweeps Up Bees

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — When 75,000 bees alighted on the tender of a car at a truck terminal Tuesday, a secretary called Victor L. Franklin, the only beekeeper listed in the city telephone directory.

Franklin arrived with gloves, face mask and portable hives. As he swept the bees into a box with a brush, he delivered a running commentary for the crowd which had gathered:

"I've been getting a call about every 35 minutes. There are bees swarming all over town—in buildings, trees and cars. That's because there are not enough hollow trees here. Bees are attracted to hollow places. A hollow spot acts as a resonator, and that is what bees are after."

"No, they won't sting me. They sting only when they have not had any honey or when they're riled up. As long as I don't move too swiftly, they won't get excited."

"This is about a 15-pound swarm, and there are about 5,000 bees to a pound so there are about 75,000 here. I'll put them out to swarm in orchards and fields."

"You can't kill bees because sting is baking soda and water."

Rep. John Race Adds to List Of Opponents

Predicts Hardest Man to Beat Will Be William Steiger

By FRANCES McKUSICK

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Sixth District Rep. John Race, Fond du Lac Democrat, today added three names to a list of "probable" Republican candi-dates for their party's nomina-tion to oppose Race next year. Race's speculation on next September's GOP Sixth District primary election was triggered by a story written by Dick Lyneis in last Sunday's Post-Crescent.

The story speculated that Assemblymen David Martin of Neenah, and Curtis McKay of Mequon and former Winnebago County Dist Atty Jack Stein-hilber of Oshkosh were "cer-tain" candidates. Assemblyman Mike A. Luniak, route 3, William Steiger of Oshkosh was Kaukauna, was arrested by a "probable" candidate and ex-Conservation Warden Keith Congressman William K. Van Reichenbach May 1 on Lake Pelt of Fond du Lac is a Winnebago. Albert J. Wagner, route 2, Reedsville, was arrest-ed May 29 fishing on Becker Lake.

Probable Candidates

by Lyneis, Race added the names of Jim Smythe, a member of the Sheboygan city council and a candidate in the 1962 primary; State Sen. Ernest Keppler of Sheboygan, and State Sen. Walter Hollander of Rosen-dale in Fond du Lac County.

Race said he believes the hardest man to beat out of the group of possible candidates would be Steiger.

The Democratic congressman did not seem to have a firm conviction on whether Van Pelt, the man he beat last November, would try to win his old job back.

Race said he "believes" there will be "at least eight or nine, or possibly 10" Republicans seeking their party's nomination in next September's GOP pri-mary.

Two men sought the nomina-tion last September—Van Pelt and Steinhilber. With 45,000 votes cast, Van Pelt won by about a 3,000 vote margin.

Braves' $500,000 Offer Treated Coolly by Officials

Bartholomay Eyes Early Atlanta Shift

BY DAVE O'HARA
MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves, high in the standings but low at the gate, may have to dig a lot deeper than a half million dollars if they want to flee to Atlanta this year.

The Braves offered a cool $500,000 for release from their Milwaukee contract at mid-season Wednesday, but the proposal received chilly, although somewhat mixed, reaction from county officials.

"To hell with 'em," snapped Milwaukee county board chairman Eugene H. Grobschmidt, a leader in legal action which forced the Braves last fall to fulfill their contract here before going to Atlanta in 1956.

Two of Grobschmidt's colleagues on the board, however, said they might entertain thoughts of letting the Braves leave — at a bigger price.

Supervisor Ted E. Wedemeyer predicted board members might be more receptive to an offer in the vicinity of three quarters of a million dollars. Supervisor Donald F. Weber set a price tag of $1.5 million.

Early Migration

Although the Braves' hopes of an early migration to the south have been well known, a formal offer was withheld until Wednesday. Bill Bartholomay, the club's board chairman, made the proposal in six-page telegrams to Grobschmidt, county executive John Doyle, and Teams, Inc., a civic group seeking another major league franchise for Milwaukee.

Bartholomay offered Milwaukee County $400,000 and Teams, Inc., $100,000 to sever contractual ties and permit the Braves to move to Atlanta after July 10. The offer carried a deadline of midnight June 21, but from initial reaction it might just as well be Dec. 31.

Bartholomay said that on the Banks' 3-Run Homer Powers Cubs' 4-2 Win

Brave Bats Limited To Four Safeties By Cal Koonce

CHICAGO (AP)—Ernie Banks, the major leagues' master of timely hitting, bombarded the Milwaukee Braves with a three-run homer Wednesday to spearhead a 4-2 Chicago victory.

Banks tagged the first pitch to him in the sixth inning out of the park to boost his RBI output to 48—trailing only slightly behind his hit total this season.

Leading both leagues in run production, Banks' blow boosted his RBI figure past the halfway mark of his 1964 output with two-thirds of the season left.

The homer, his 11th of the season, gave him 60 hits in 200 ap-

Willie Mays Paces Giants to 4-2 Win Over the Mets

Weary Star Gets Homer, 3 RBIs; Phils Defeat Dodgers, 7 to 3

BY DICK COUCH Associated Press Sports Writer

Houston 11-3 and St. Louis beat Cincinnati 6-4 in other National League night games.

Herman Franks would like to give Willie Mays a day off, but every time the San Francisco Giants' star earns a rest he gives his manager another reason for keeping him on the job.

Weary Willie, who came into New York two days ago nursing a heavy cold and a deflated bat, worked over the eighth after losing pitcher Jack Mays Wednesday night for the second straight game, driving in three runs with a single and his 18th homer in the Giants' 4-2 victory.

The previous night Mays had ended an 0-for-18 famine by doubling home two first-inning runs that stood up for a 2-1 decision over the National League tail-enders.

"I would like a real day off," the great center fielder said after that game. "I'd like the manager to tell me stay away from the park for one full day."

Mays Best for Giants

Franks has held Willie out of his starting line-up several times but invariably has had to call on the 34-year-old slugger as a punch hitter or defensive replacement. The manager wants to do what's best for Mays but he knows that Mays is what's best for the Giants — slump or no slump.

At the outset of the Giants-Mets series, Willie was batting a prolonged skid that had lopped 75 points off his batting average since May 22. He had totaled only one run batted in and three hits since that date and had not homered in his last 15 starts.

The Mets, however, proved to be good medicine for Mays — just as they had been in past meetings. Mays now has hit 20 home runs and knocked in 54 runs in 59 games against New York.

324 Batting Mark

Wednesday's night's spurt gave Willie 41 RBI and a 324 batting mark for the season.

Ernie Banks rapped a three-run homer, lifting the Chicago Cubs past Milwaukee 4-2 in an afternoon game and boosting his RBI lead to 48. Philadelphia knocked off the Los Angeles Dodgers 7-3. Pittsburgh ripped

Names Not Divulged Three Yankees Fined For Breaking Training

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The New York Yankees, who last year gave up on harmonicas, the fines because "we didn't like it to go unnoticed. It got out of hand. It was a public show. If somebody wants to carry on, there's a place for it. That was not the place."

The Yankees, mired in eighth place and apparently whistling in the dark in the American League pennant race, announced Wednesday that three players had been fined $250 each for breaking training.

The Yankees refused to divulge the names of the players and the nature of the incidents that brought about the fines. But reporters traveling with the club said the fines were levied for, among other things, whistling at waitresses in a restaurant.

The same newsmen also reported that two of the fined players were $100,000-a-year outfielder Mickey Mantle and relief pitcher Hal Reniff.

The fines were announced at a hastily called press conference by General Manager Ralph Houk, who flew to Kansas City after the baseball draft ended in New York.

"A few people broke training," Houk said. "Three players were fined $250 apiece. A few others were talked to."

Houk said he would not discuss the names of the players.

Chance Shifted To Relief Role

Angels Hope Move Will Get Former Star in Groove

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dean Chance, who posted 20 victories last year and won the Cy Young Award as baseball's leading pitcher, is being demoted to the bullpen.

The decision to employ Chance in relief means he'll miss a chance Friday night to start against the team he has dominated so convincingly the last two seasons, the New York Yankees.

Chance has beaten the defending American League champion four times in a row, allowing them one run in 50 innings last year and four in 15 this season.

"We would have sent him to the bullpen last month if it hadn't been for all the double-headers we had to play," said Angel Manager Bill Rigney. "We were in a spot where we had to have five starting pitchers."

Dean has pitched early-season relief the last two years and it seemed to get him in a groove to where he was effective as a starter by mid-season. We're hoping the same thing will happen this time."

Chance hasn't pitched as well as his 4-4 record would seem to indicate. He has allowed 70 hits and 37 walks in 73 innings and has a 4.81 earned run average. Last year, his ERA was 1.65.

pearances for a .300 average. Banks hit .264 last year and drove in 85 runs.

The defeat cost second place Milwaukee an opportunity to gain ground on league-leading Los Angeles and third place Cincinnati, both of which also lost. The Braves remained 3½ games behind the Dodgers, with the Reds and San Francisco both 4 back.

Followed Two Singles

Banks' homer followed singles by Billy Williams and Ron Santo and wiped out a 1-0 Milwaukee lead. Harry Bright's double brought in another run for Chicago in the seventh.

Felipe Alou belted his seventh homer for Milwaukee in the eighth with none on. The Braves got their first run in the top of the first on Hank Aaron's single, a passed ball, an infield hit and an error.

Wade Blasingame was the victim of Banks' blast and suffered his fifth loss in 11 decisions. It was only the third home run the 21-year-old southpaw has surrendered this season.

Cal Koonce went the route for Chicago and yielded only four hits. It was the exact number the Braves managed in scoring the same number of runs in nine innings the previous night before exploding the tenth for six more runs on four homers and three singles.

CLINTONVILLE — A new fire apparatus and military engineering division has been created at FWD Corp. and placed under the supervision of John F. Dando, assistant chief engineer. It was announced this week by R. W. Stieg, FWD vice president and chief engineer.

The new division, Stieg said, complements the recent integration of Seagrave manufacture at FWD. It will be responsible for the design and engineering of all fire apparatus manufactured here, including both FWD and Seagrave fire fighting equipment.

The division also will be responsible for the design and engineering of all military ground support equipment and various FWD military vehicles such as the P-2 crash-rescue type fire trucks now being built by the firm for the U.S. Air Force.

Beer Depots Are 'Victims', Sheriff Warns

Beer and liquor deliveries, left at unattended homes, may be falling into very young hands.

Outagamie County Sheriff Cal- vin Spice warned Wednesday, Spice, in letters sent to 34 beer and liquor distributors in the county, said the depots may be victims of "schemes" by young persons who request a delivery at a home which is vacant or the resident is on vacation.

Spice said the "callers" request the delivery and report that if no one is at home, the delivery is to be left near the door and the delivery charged to the account.

In some cases, Spice said, the caller indicates that payment on for the delivery may be found near the spot where the delivery is to be made.

Spice said it would be good practice not to make deliveries to unattended homes or in places where there is no adult to accept the delivery.

Businesses Expand Plans For Expansion

Spending Expected
To be at Highest Level at End of Year

BY SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) —Business expansion plans are themselves expanding. And such spending is expected to hit its fastest pace in the final months of the year.

These record outlays can spread through many segments of the national economy, pepping up sales and production for many industries from metals to business services.

This is one of the most reassuring prospects in this period of uncertainty in the stock markets and of economic pulse-taking in many quarters.

Scaling upward of capital spending plans is reported by a survey of business intentions by the Commerce Department and the Securities & Exchange Commission. Outlays are expected to rise to $52 billion at an annual rate in the final months of 1965. This stimulant to the economy in the months just ahead will be welcomed by those who now are having a case of nerves.

Construction Outlays

A corollary statistic on the current situation is the Census Bureau's report that construction outlays are running 3 per cent ahead of the first five months of 1964. Actual expenditures so far this year have been $24.6 billion. Construction is only a part of business capital spending and it also takes in other private and government activity.

Pointing to an increase in such construction spending in coming months is the awarding of contracts. This also has turned upward and is well-ahead of year ago figures.

Together the capital spending intentions and the actual construction testify to general confidence in industrial and commercial circles that the future will bring increased demands for their products and services.

Affects Industries

Construction's widespread influence is shown in its effects on the output of other industries. This ranges from about two-thirds of total demand for heating, plumbing and structural metal products and better than 50 per cent for stone and clay products, to about 5 per cent for glass and glass products and paper and allied products and about 7 per cent for petroleum refining and related industries.

In between are sizable percentages that construction outlays mean for the production of lumber and wood, mining and quarrying, electric lighting and wiring, iron and steel manufacturing, nonferrous metal products, paints and a 10 per cent gain for business services.

The latest survey of capital spending plans shows a larger percentage expected to go into actual expansion this year than recently, and comparatively less for modernization that dominated such spending in the last three or four years.

The government survey estimates the outlays for the year at $50.4 billion, up 12.3 per cent from 1964's record. Earlier in the year the government forecast was for a rise of 11.8 per cent.

The annual rate is expected to rise from the $49 billion of the first quarter to $49.6 billion in the current April-May-June period to $50.8 billion in the third quarter and then to a whopping $52.1 billion rate before the year ends.

Significantly, manufacturers are planning to increase their spending by 17 per cent this year to $21.8 billion. The smallest gain would be in the electric utilities which expect to put out 7 per cent more.

Some economists had hoped for a greater business outlay in 1965. And businessmen still could change their minds — either way — and actually spend more than they now plan, or if they become frightened, a bit less.

Top High School Band to Present Concert at FVL

Milwaukee Group On Nine-Day Tour In U. S., Canada

One of Milwaukee's top high school bands will present a concert at Fox Valley Lutheran High School at 8 p.m. Monday.

The Wisconsin Lutheran High School "Viking" Band will play in the Fox Cities as its second stop on a nine-day tour.

The WLHS musicians have received first division awards in Wisconsin School Music Association Class A competition for the past four years.

The band won firsts in the Horicon Marsh Days Parade (1964) and the Greenfield Fourth of July Parade (1964), has taken two seconds at the Wisconsin State Fair (1963, 1964) and was awarded a third in the Holiday Fair Parade (1964).

Circus Parade

The group also has the distinction, for the second year, of being the only high school band from the Milwaukee area to be selected for the "Day in Old Milwaukee" circus parade.

The tour will cover Wisconsin and Minnesota and Manitoba, Canada. Major highlight of the trip will be at the Red River Exhibition in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, where the band will compete in concert and marching competition and in a parade with bands from four other states.

The trip will cover 2,000 miles and take nine days. Milwaukee and Appleton are the only Wisconsin cities included.

Eighth Year

The band is completing its eighth year. During this time it has grown from a beginners group of 20 to an outstanding unit numbering 130.

Wisconsin Lutheran High School is run by congregations of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod in the Milwaukee area. It is a sister school of Fox Valley Lutheran High School, and the bands of the two institutions participate each year in the state Lutheran high school band festival.

Airline Counsel Studying Order

Bernard Sweet, North Central Airlines vice president, told the Post-Crescent Wednesday that he received the telegram from Outagamie County Corporation Counsel Albert W. Ponsath about next Monday's closing of the old county airport and has turned the matter over to the airline's legal counsel in Washington, D.C.

"They are studying Outagamie County's order now and will make a recommendation on what course we should follow," Sweet said. He added, "We will make a decision, based upon our attorneys' advice, possibly sometime late this afternoon or early tomorrow (Thursday) morning."

Power Pool Value Outlined For Utilities

Menasha, Kaukauna Currently Studying Program for Area

MENASHA — In many instances power pooling proves to be more beneficial to small power companies than to larger utilities, representatives of Wisconsin's municipally owned electric utilities were told Wednesday.

Donald E. Burroughs, executive engineer, R. W. Beck and Associates, Columbus, Neb., outlined the advantages of small utilities joining together in a power pool and also some of the problems to be faced in an address at the opening session of the 36th annual Municipal Electric Utilities of Wisconsin conference.

Growing Interest

The municipal utilities have expressed a growing interest in power pooling as a means of meeting rising costs and competition and a year ago set up a power pooling committee to study feasibility of setting up a pool among member utilities and possibly the REA and other private utilities.

Menasha and Kaukauna are currently studying the possibility of setting up a joint power-pool.

Burroughs listed among the advantages of a power pool as a reduction in needed installed generating capacity, reduction in reserve requirements, reduction in spinning reserve, utilization of surplus capacity of one system, programmed expansion, reduction in likelihood of outages, and a better selling point for inducing industry into an area.

Factors to Hinder

Burroughs said there also were some factors which could hinder the setting up of a power pool such as local laws prohibiting a utility from setting up lines outside its area and binding limitations on a joint operation.

He said he did not know of any power pool currently in operation consisting exclusively of municipally owned utilities, although there are "mixed" pools of municipal and private utilities.

Race Aids Dutch Immigrant Woman Facing Deportation

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—Sixth District Rep. John Race (D-Fond du Lac) doesn't wait for someone Costello to remain in the country for years before the immigration service moves to deport them. Yet, authorities his way to find persons needing help leave this country by June 30.

Race saw a story in a Wisconsin newspaper Tuesday telling of the plight of Gerardus W. Van Dijk, 35-year-old widower who is fighting the June 30 deportation of the nursemaid for his six children ranging in age from one to eight years old.

Van Dijk works all day maintaining a 300-acre farm for a Neenah physician. The nursemaid, Joanne Van Den Berg, 27, a Dutch immigrant to Canada, took the job as an act of mercy at the request of a Catholic priest in the Netherlands, according to Race. She has been taking care of the children since January. She entered the U.S. on a Dutch passport which expires June 30.

When Race learned of the case, he made several long distance phone calls, met with the House legislative counsel, and introduced legislation to permit Miss Van Den Berg to remain in the United States.

The legislation in the form of a private bill automatically halts the plan of the immigration service to deport Miss Van Den Berg on June 30.

Referring to the proposed deportation of the Dutch wom-

Administration Future Grows More Complex

Sudden Involvement In Foreign Affairs Switch for Johnson

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — At one time the direction of the Johnson administration seemed clear but it is complex now and the question can fairly be asked. Where are we going?

The clear part was in the administration's heavy concentration on home problems. But suddenly, and with increasing intensity as time passes, the administration spread its attention to foreign affairs.

And the deeper the United States gets involved in the war in Viet Nam — to take one example — the more complex the future looks.

For more than a year after he succeeded the assassinated President John F. Kennedy in November, 1963, President Johnson put almost all his attention on the field where he was expert, domestic doings and dealings with Congress.

Never Tested
He did extremely well and under his prodding Congress made remarkable progress. If Johnson had been able to occupy himself this well until the end of his elected term, the final judgment on his record appeared certain to be excellent.

But within a month after taking office on his own last January, Johnson plunged into the foreign field where his experience was limited and his ability never proven because it was never tested.

He moved in a big way, ordering the bombing of North Viet Nam, an order still being carried out although the North Vietnamese have not visibly budged an inch.

Ironically, unless there is a quick solution in Asia where none is in sight, the final judgment on the success or failure or wisdom of the Johnson administration may have to be made in this field least familiar to it, foreign problems.

At this minute no one outside the administration, and perhaps no one inside it, can say whether the United States is going to get into a big land war in Asia.

Less Limited Role
Adding to the uncertainty is the way in which American involvement is being stepped up until what looked once like a limited role for American forces now seems much less limited.

No president could be expected to telegraph his punches to an enemy with detailed public announcement beforehand of policies and intentions but there is a certain puzzle about this:

Does Johnson have thought-out plans for each step the United States intends to take in Viet Nam or are those steps more the product of events than of planning?

For instance, last March, when Marines were sent into Viet Nam, the U.S. Defense Department said the South Vietnamese government asked for them to guard the airbase at Da Nang and gave this official explanation:

"The limited mission of the Marines will be to relieve the government of South Viet Nam forces now engaged in security duty for action in the pacification programs and in offensive roles against Communist guerrillas."

Guard Duty
That made it seem the Americans would sit tight, doing guard duty, while the Vietnamese did the fighting. There were 27,000 troops and Marines in Viet Nam in March. Gradually the number was increased until now there are 54,000.

And now the Americans' role seems a lot less limited. Last Friday a military spokesman in Saigon said these U. S. forces had a dual role: of defense and taking part in battle in support of Vietnamese forces when help is asked.

A State Department spokesman indicated the same thing Tuesday, which seemed to be putting U.S. forces far deeper into war. And Wednesday a White House spokesman said that while the Americans are in Viet Nam to guard important bases they can be used in combat to help the Vietnamese under certain circumstances.

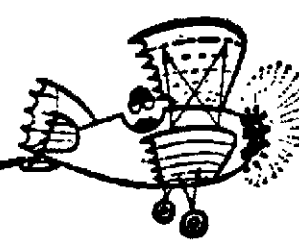

So gradually American involvement has increased. There was a similar stepup in explanations when Johnson sent troops into the Dominican Republic. First, he said it was to save American lives; then he added that it was to prevent a Communist takeover.

There is another uncertainty about Johnson's future foreign policy. Will he be as quick to use American armed force in other situations which may arise in these next four years as he was in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic?

Market Low Makes Issues More Attractive

Long-Term Gains
Opportunity Now
Good for Investors

BY SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The tumble of stock market averages from their May 14 peak has brought many issues to a level that makes their yields more attractive to long-term investors.

Return on the investment is one reason for buying stocks. Another, and much dearer to most active traders, is the chance of capital gains from rising prices.

On the first score the market looks better today to the long-term investor. He was beginning to worry because at the peak prices the yields looked small. Corporate profits were rising but stock prices outstripped them.

On the second score, the sharp drop in stock prices Tuesday could make some issues look like bargains. But it wiped out a lot of paper profits for those who had bought with hopes that prices would keep climbing. And these disappointed ones are the loudest grumblers at the market's performance in most of the last four weeks.

Stock Ratio
The yield is what you get, or have a right to expect, in dividends in ratio to the market price you pay for a stock. In most instances dividends depend upon past and prospective earnings of the individual corporations. So would-be buyers watch closely the ratio of stock prices to current earnings as reported or estimated.

And that ratio is now much more attractive to investors than it was at times when exuberance was sending prices soaring.

For an example take the 30 industrial stocks used in the popular Dow-Jones industrial index. A year ago the index stood at 865. Per share earnings of the 30 stocks came to $42.60. The price index thus was 18.9 times earnings.

The index reached its peak of 939.62 May 14. Tuesday's break brought it down to 889.05, a 5.33 per cent drop. But estimated per share earnings of the 30 stocks is now $48.78. So Tuesday the industrial price average is 18.2 times earnings.

1961 Ratio
Carry the comparison back to the hectic days of September 1961 and the ratio is 21.2. The yield at that time was so poor that traders obviously were speculating only on increases in stock prices. They were badly disappointed as the market slid off in the early months of 1962 and then dropped sharply in May and June of that year.

The stock market always has two kinds of buyers and sellers. The quiet and least noticed one is the investor who expects a reasonable yield on the stock he buys or is selling because the yield looks poor. He also hopes that prices may rise or at least not drop. But he prizes his dividend checks.

The second, the one more likely to affect the sharp day-to-day swings of the market, cares only incidentally for the yield or dividends. His eye is on making a killing by buying low and selling high. When he sells it is because he thinks the chances of that have gone glimmering.

The majority of stocks in America are held by the long-term investors. And to them yield is important. The small percentage of outstanding stocks that are traded day by day and change hands many times each year set the current price trends.

But the best laid plans of the active trader can be spoiled if yields become so low that long-term investors turn from stocks to other forms of investing that yield better.

Corn Planting Almost Complete; Haying Gets Slow Start in State

MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin corn planting is about 90 per cent completed but haying, usually on the heels of corn field work, has scarcely started except in a few localities in southern counties.

Rain, soft ground and cold have kept haying at a slow pace, the weekly crop and weather report stated today.

Soil moisture is generally adequate in most areas. The southeastern quarter has reported dry conditions in scattered sections. Pasture conditions continue to improve and look best in the North.

to keep it a Vietnamese battle for the time being.

"We think the Viet Cong is trying to suck the Americans into this one for a pitched battle," he said.

Consideration was believed being given to committing the U.S. Army's 173rd Airborne Brigade to the battle. If so, this would be the first American battle of the Vietnamese war.

U.S. Air Force and Navy planes pounded a wide range of targets in North Viet Nam. A U.S. Navy propeller-driven Skyraider fighter-bomber plunged into a ridge while diving on a power plant at Co Dinh, about nine miles southwest of Thanh Hoa. The pilot was presumed killed.

Red Attack
The Communists struck shortly after midnight with simultaneous attacks on the camp and the district capital of Dong Xoai about a mile away.

Viet Cong guerrillas laid down a 60mm mortar barrage of about 200 shells on the camp. Another Red force attacked the district headquarters post in the town, which was defended by about 90 militiamen.

The Communists quickly overran the town and the airstrip. They reportedly thrust about halfway through the U.S. special forces compound and main Vietnamese military compound.

Fighter planes and armed helicopters guided by parachute flares tried all night to drive the guerrillas off. One report said a U.S. Air Force B57 bomber and a single-engine plane were shot down.

About 500 Vietnamese reinforcements were flown into the area by helicopter three hours

In addition to adopting resolutions and the statement of principles, the convention will elect a party chairman, two vice-chairmen, a state treasurer, and seven members of the party administrative committee. Louis Hansen is expected to gain a second two-year term as chairman without opposition.

Lack of Moral Principle

Other parts of the preliminary draft of the statement of principles charge Gov. Warren Knowles with a "lack of moral principle" for campaigning for office with a theme of holding the line on spending, but three months later presenting the largest budget increase in state history, reject Knowles' tax bill as "totally unacceptable," and call for taxes and the budget to be considered separately "to insure that a good budget is not used to justify a bad tax bill."

The convention also would be asked to endorse calling of a constitutional convention, to endorse an open occupancy human rights bill, and a state civil rights agency, and to back bonding programs for expanded highway construction and an expansion of the State Traffic Patrol.

Demonstrators Arrested in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Six more civil rights demonstrators, including a clergyman, were fined Wednesday after forming a human blockade in front of a school bus in a continuing integration dispute.

Four of the demonstrators pleaded innocent to separate charges of obstructing an officer by sitting on the pavement when told they were under arrest. Their cases were continued until June 19.

Fines of $20 were levied against all six on charges of blocking traffic. The two demonstrators who walked to the police van were fined another $20 each on a charge of failure to obey an officer when told to move from in front of the bus.

The latest demonstration brought to 38 the number of persons arrested in bus blockades protesting the Milwaukee School Board's policy of keeping classes intact when they are transferred temporarily from overcrowded, other schools.

Question of Union Control Not Settled

High Court Rules Negotiations Could Be Monopolistic

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — When does industrywide bargaining by employers and labor unions constitute a monopolistic practice in violation of antitrust laws?

The Supreme Court of the United States has just rendered decisions which indicate that in some instances an agreement by a national labor union with a number of employers could fix wage scales high enough to

"We think Congress never intended that unions could, consistently with the Sherman Act, aid non-labor groups to create business monopolies and to control the marketing of goods and services."

The dissenting justices, in passing on the action of the meat cutters in Chicago, said in this week's case:

"The unions here induced a large group of merchants to use their collective strength to hurt others who wanted the competitive advantage of selling meat after 6 p.m."

"Unless Allen-Bradley is overruled or greatly modified, the unions can no more aid a group of businessmen to force their competitors to follow uniform store marketing hours than to force them to sell at fixed prices. Both practices take away the freedom of traders to carry on their business in their own competitive fashion."

A reading of the voluminous opinions in the two cases this week gives the impression that a every case will have to be decided on its merits and that by no means any of the subject of how labor unions can go in making multi-employer agreements which hurt marginal companies and eventually put some of them out of business.

Sham Battle at Madison

Democrats in the state Senate during a tedious filibuster that lasted nearly two weeks labeled the Republican majority's tax and budget bill a "sham" proposal. With the patient care that testified to their propaganda resourcefulness, if not to their respect for the intelligence of the voters of Wisconsin, they offered scores of amendments with the obvious intention of tormenting their political rivals rather than out of any hope or belief that they would be seriously considered. Indeed, some of them might have been embarrassing if they had been enacted.

The word "sham" is a reasonably apt one—for the entire enervating, theatrical, publicity-motivated and artificial contest at the capitol on the question of an expenditure level for state services and institutions for the next two years and the more difficult matter of financing it through tax revisions and increases.

For the Democrats obviously don't want an early or easy settlement of the stalemate between the parties, and between the houses. They want to continue the crisis atmosphere as long as they can, for such partisan advantage it may contain for them, or more particularly, for such damage as it may do to the Republicans and Gov. Knowles in particular.

All this is natural enough, in the nature of partisan rivalry and the great game of legislative maneuvering that has been played in Madison in every biennium. Yet we have a feeling that about all that the anxious Democrats are accomplishing is to create a vast boredom in the electorate. The issues are too obscure to be easily grasped. The distinctions between the party positions are too ambiguous. There is no real difference, in terms that the voter down in the ranks can measure, in the position of the administration and the Democratic critics on the level of state expenditures. Both want a high total, probably higher than the people of Wisconsin would permit if they could choose directly.

The dispute, to the extent that it is

Television in the Courtroom

The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that the televising of criminal trials denies to defendants their right of due process of law. But the various opinions issued by the justices involved leaves the question up in the air whether this will become a permanent ruling against all televising of criminal cases.

The vote of the court was 5 to 4. Justice Tom Clark delivered the court's majority opinion, and he was joined by Justices Warren, Douglas and Goldberg in a separate concurring opinion all of which held that televising criminal trials is "inherently a denial of due process."

Four other justices joined in a dissenting opinion, Stewart, Black, Brennan and White. They said that the use of television in a courtroom "is, at least in the present state of the art, an extremely unwise policy." But they said they were unable to "escalate this personal view into a per se constitutional rule" against all television for all time. They said they didn't think the constitution denies to a state or to individual trial judges discretion as to whether to allow television or not.

The key opinion then becomes that of Justice Harlan. He wrote that there were further questions to be resolved and that they should await an appropriate case. He believed the Supreme Court should proceed only step-by-step in this field.

On the basis of Harlan's opinion, Justice Brennan said in his view only four justices voted to hold that televised criminal trials are constitutionally infirm, whatever the circumstances.

The case before the court involved the conviction of Billie Sol Estes on swindling charges in a court at Tyler, Texas. The states of Texas and Colorado permit individual trial judges to decide for themselves whether cases can be televised.

In the Tyler case a special booth for television cameras was built at the rear of legitimate, relates to the methods of raising the great sums of new tax money that will be required under any one of the slightly differing budget alternatives. Democrats obviously want to label Knowles as the high tax advocate. That is fair enough, and is a part of the risk a man undertakes when he runs for high office and a natural consequence of the policy choices the governor made when he wrote his budget recommendations.

But it is crystal clear to anybody who wants to see that the tax program that is enacted in the end will be a compromise, one that fully suits nobody, one that incorporates some of the Democrats' demands and retains some of the governor's wishes. The power division leaves no alternative. Democrats cannot force Knowles to accept their own prescription in its entirety. He cannot bend them to his wishes completely.

That phase of this tiresome argument at Madison is more easily comprehended by the voter in the precincts than are the details of expenditures and revenue arguments, or the endless parliamentary maneuvers that have paralyzed one house of the legislature for a fortnight, and now threaten to immobilize the other for at least an equal period. We suspect that if the average man in Wisconsin had some advice to give to his Democratic legislative representatives, he would urge them to do now what they will inevitably do in the end, which is to sit down at the conference table with the governor and his Republicans to pound out a compromise.

We believe the governor has handled his end of the dispute well. He has repeatedly and earnestly invited his foes to talk. They have repeatedly and scornfully spurned the invitations, while they insisted upon wasting weeks of time on grandstanding and propaganda. If there is any tendency for popular revulsion about such puerile and fruitless quarrelling among our chosen leaders at Madison, it seems to us that the Democrats are as likely to be its targets as anybody else involved.

the courtroom. Live television was permitted during arguments to the jury and upon return of the jury's verdict. Other telecasting was on film without sound. Live broadcasting by radio was not permitted and no floodlights or flashbulbs were allowed. It would seem this was a carefully controlled use of television.

But the majority of the justices said that the chief function of judicial machinery is to ascertain the truth and "the use of television cannot be said to contribute materially to this objective." "Rather," Justice Clark wrote, "its use amounts to the injection of an irrelevant factor into court proceedings."

The justices were mainly concerned about the psychological effect of live television on the defendant. "It's presence is a form of mental—if not physical—harassment, resembling a police lineup or the third-degree. The inevitable closeups of his gestures and expressions during the ordeal of his trial might well transgress his personal sensibilities, his dignity, and his ability to concentrate on the proceedings before him—sometimes the difference between life and death—dispassionately, freely and without the distraction of wide public surveillance."

We have commented before that much of the bulky equipment of the television industry today, the cables and the floodlights and the microphones and the large cameras, are a very real mechanical handicap to television reporters gaining the same public access as say a newspaper reporter with a pad and pencil. But rapid improvements are being made in this equipment to the point where it will soon become quite inobtrusive, just as has modern available light newspaper photography.

It is fortunate only four of the justices are of the opinion television in criminal proceedings is obnoxious per se. We hope the other five will take another look at the matter in future years.

Jeff Davis' Defense Underway

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for June 17, 1865.

It is said, says The Rochester Union, that Charles O'Connor intends to call as witnesses in defense of Jefferson Davis several immaculate patriots, including Horace Greeley, who argued the right of succession to the fullest extent.

Also, D. S. Dickinson, Lyman Tremain, B. F. Butler, and others, who aided and abetted the rebellion, and insisted that in withdrawing from the Union and seceding states were exercising an undoubted right.

These gentlemen are all lawyers, and from their speeches on record, and letters from some of them to southern men on file, Mr. O'Connor intends to prove that Jefferson Davis was acting under their advice or counsel!

Did Writer Get Lord's Help In One Signed 'Not a Realtor'

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I am taking the liberty of mailing this bit of whimsy to you in the hope that you will be kind enough to find space to print it. It has much against it, of course. It is signed, for one thing, and it is not an attack on any segment or classification of my fellow citizens. It is not even related to the kind of education being foisted on Appleton High School students. As I said, it is only whimsical.

You see, I read the letter in the People's Forum signed "Not a Realtor" and I had all day Sunday to reflect on its contents. Then I got to wondering about the kind of person who wrote it, the motivations and the actual mechanics of putting things down on paper. Since it was anonymous, I could let my imagination wander a bit. I chose to work with the laws of chance and to assume that the writer is probably white, female, Christian property owner (not necessarily listed in order of importance). As the probability of Christianity was involved, I hypothesized that she invoked divine guidance in writing her letter. I then imagined that her soliloquy went something like this:

"Lord, I've made up my mind to take some wrong-thinking people to task and I'd like to discuss it with You so that You can see how this has to be done, and that it is for everybody's good. You know how it is. You did a little attacking in your time, too. I seem to recall. You had a real good opening line: 'Woe unto you, scribes, Pharisees, hypocrites.' Which is a little corny for our day and age. If you'll pardon the observation, I don't know who those characters were, but You probably just had other words to describe the same nigger-loving, mental health nuts who plague us today. Yep, those are the ones I'm getting ready to blast. Got it pretty well worked out, too. If I do say so myself, I'll start out by throwing a scare into the audience—nothing better than the Gestapo for that. And I'll get in rights, too. The kind of people I'm going to get on my side are very concerned about rights, and especially property rights. Another thing you can't go wrong on for my kind of an audience, Lord, is the communist menace. I haven't figured out just how to bring this in, but never mind. It'll come to me. I can use "commisnar" in there someplace, if I really feel that the thing may be bogging down.

"Now we get to those mental health kooks I was telling You about, Lord. Did a little research on that, and Boy! they're really dangerous. Claim to be interested in helping the mentally ill! How far out can you get? Nobody's going to go out of his way to go to bat for a loony, so they've got to be up to something subversive. Here's where we give them that Siberia bit. Must be lots of people haven't heard about the Alaska institution rumor, so that should fit in real good. And we'll take care of the Compact Bill S42 at this point. Transport patients across state lines indeed! They don't get us to bite on that one, I'll tell You. Why, it reflects on the way we care for our nuts in the great state of Wisconsin (not that I've been involved with that crowd, goodness knows).

Now I've got to be a little cautious in slapping down this League of Women Voters, Lord. They've got no apparent axe to grind and seem to be pretty respected, generally. I figure to get around that by labeling them "educated." Stands to reason, there must be more of us who never got to college than there are that did, and we won't stand still for being up-staged by those snooty dames.

"Well that about takes care of it, Lord. Can't really say You've been much of a help in the matter, but it wasn't too important anyway. I had it figured in advance, and this did help in getting it organized. Amen."

Thanks for your indulgence.

Doesn't Admire Views Of Fox Valley Teacher

Editor, Post-Crescent:

We have just gone through the Memorial Day weekend and have given honor to the many young men and boys who have sacrificed their lives to preserve the freedom of this great country of ours. My reason for writing this letter is to speak out in protest against the letter written by the teacher from Fox Valley Center who wrote against United States policies in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. I cannot see any logical reasoning in this man's letter. Being a great country of free people there should be no question whether or not our country should take a firm stand for freedom and also fight if necessary to keep it that way, or let Communism take over bit by bit until all free people are swallowed up. Why do our colleges and universities allow teachers, with these ideas, to teach our young ladies and gentlemen? I am sure he would be appreciated more by all Americans if he taught his don't fight policies in Russia where this criticism is needed.

Students Believe AHS Problems Will be Solved

Editor Post-Crescent:

Due to the recent articles about Appleton High School, we would like to express our feelings on these articles.

Appleton High School has experienced many problems in this school year of 64-65. On the whole however, this system is by far the best, and many people believe in it.

Was our democracy established in one year? Of course not. So how can young adults be expected to do something in one year that it took full grown adults many years to achieve? Experience is the key to success.

Of course there have been a few problems. But there's bound to be problems when you change to a new school system. Unfortunately there are a few students who don't know how to conduct themselves. But aren't there these few in every school or society? I'm sure by next year, however, we will have solutions to these problems and any others that may arise.

We think all in all this has been a terrific year at A.H.S.,

Longer Truck-Trailer Combinations Survive First Test in Assembly

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—The Wisconsin Assembly has provoked a considerable commotion by its preliminary although qualified vote for longer and heavier commercial transport vehicles on the principal Wisconsin highways.

The measure as given en-

Wyngaard

grossment in a bipartisan division of the lower house would delegate to the Highway Commission the power to permit so-called "double bottoms" or a tractor and semi-trailer plus trailer combination within a length limitation of 65 feet on the Interstate highways and others. Concurrently, it would establish axle weight limits in compliance with national standards promulgated by the National Association of State Highway Officials or the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

Some critics have attributed the result to the personal power of the truckers' trade association manager and lobbyist, John P. Varda. A reader of some accounts might be inclined to conclude that Varda is a miracle worker, indeed.

This department has no desire to disparage Varda's political skill and acquaintance, which are extensive.

There are probably a couple of dozen other lobbyists on the sidelines at Madison who are mildly envious of the attention Varda has been getting in the public press and the impression it must be making upon his clients who are paying his bills.

But there are many other factors involved in the legislature's gradually changing attitude on truck regulation, besides the demonstrable ability and experience of the truckers' principal political agent.

Historically the resistance in the legislature to the truck industry was led by the competitive railroads. That competition has gradually lessened, as the railroads have declined in political importance and in the transportation economy. Over the years there was always the objection of road wear in legislative consideration of truck law liberalization. That reservation has virtually disappeared, as a result of recent studies on test roads, and probably as a result of gradually increasing standards of road construction and maintenance design.

There is also the tendency to overlook the fact that truckers have become more important elements of the business community and that Wisconsin business and industry in general are aware of the exigencies of highway transport and responsive to their needs in such transport in their own relations with their legislative representatives.

SAFETY?

This reporter cannot pose as a specialist on the complex technical questions involved, but it is fair to deduce that much of the animosity in the current legislative incident inspired by the resentment of the average motorist who encounters trucks in his own highway travels. Yet if there is a safety factor involved, it is worth noting that the numerous specialists in that field have been strangely silent.

It may also be assumed that if Mr. Varda is capable of the miracles in manipulation of which he stands accused, he would serve his own purposes better by having statutory laws written than in relying upon the nonpolitical judgments of highway engineers in Madison and in Washington.

The truckers face some additional and important hurdles in their drive for more favorable size and weight regulations in the State Senate and in the person of Gov. Warren P. Knowles. But it is fair deduction that there is involved here an example of adaptation to change, rather than the conspiracy theory of politics so often embraced by the inattentive.

When a novelist tries to deal with abstract ideas and philosophical notions in his book, he usually reveals himself as a pitiful thinker, for it is the very unconscious symbolic power that gives his novel its virtue that, at the same time, makes it hard for him to deal directly with abstract ideas.

In primitive societies, the men flourish while the women grow old fast; in industrialized societies, the women stay young forever while the men die off at an alarming rate; there must be some possible combination that would achieve parity between the sexes.

The clever man laughs at fools; the wise man pities them; the shrewd man uses them; and this is why clever men and wise men don't prosper nearly so much as shrewd men.

What most nations call "foreign policy" is not policy at all, in any rational sense of the word, but simply a construct for justifying their desires—like the little boy I once heard in a schoolyard, who said, "I hit him first in self-defense."

There is no limit to the interpretations people can make out of Bible stories; if one asked a booster-type person the moral in the tale of Jonah and the whale, he would probably reply, "It proves that you can't keep a good man down."

Sterility Not Caused By Kidney Infection

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. determine whether or not he is sterile.

Dear Dr. Molner: Recently my husband had a kidney infection. I have reason to believe this condition may have made him sterile. Is there such a thing as being temporarily sterile? If he is sterile, can the condition be corrected? —Mrs. M.E.

You say you have "reason to believe" that the kidney infection made him sterile, but you don't mention the reason.

Frankly, I doubt that you have reason to believe it. Oh, you may suspect that he is sterile, and attribute it to the kidney infection, but that isn't real "reason to believe."

I don't mean to argue over the meaning of words, but here's the way it looks to me.

First, the kidneys and the reproductive system are separate, and hence there is no reason to think such an infection would cause sterility.

Second, is he sterile? There's nothing to be gained in speculating on infection that he had you get further medical treatment. The real question is ment immediately. With your his condition now. So by all means have tests made to

And fourth, yes, many cases of sterility can be corrected, although not all. Correction depends on finding the cause and curing it. So I think you are probably leading yourself astray by speculating about the kidney infection instead of going directly at the question of sterility.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a bad infection which affects the hearing in my right ear. The doctor said my sinuses are bad, too. I am dependent on nose drops, but for about a month now I noticed a good bit of blood when I blow my nose. I seem to recall your mentioning a booklet about sinuses. Am I right? —Mrs. F.R.

My booklet, "You Can Stop Sinus Trouble" is available if you request it. Send 20 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Molner in care of The Post-Crescent Nose drops, as the booklet points out, are a temporary expedient to shrink the tissues. They won't cure anything. They will, however, tend to dry the surfaces and quite likely may help in the bleeding.

I feel sure the booklet will be of benefit, but with the presence of that infection and the ear nothing to be gained in speculating on infection that he had you get further medical treatment. The real question is ment immediately. With your his condition now. So by all means have tests made to

to try to get along with nose drops or other self-treatment. See a specialist at once. Your problem is more than just sinus trouble.

Dear Dr. Molner: Every now and then I have a slight fluttering in my upper left eyelid. Could this be something serious? —Mrs. S.H.

Nothing to worry about. This can be a tic or muscle spasm of the eyelid.

Dear Dr. Molner: On rising in the morning my legs are normal size but after walking a short time my ankles and calves increase. They also ache, and I have no idea what is causing this condition. My doctor mentioned that it was the veins, but I have none that show. Can you advise me? —Mrs. W.S.

Faulty circulation could do just that. It is possible for weakness in the veins to retard circulation even though the veins do not show. Some veins lie deeper than others, you know.

Or there might be some other cause of faulty circulation — a narrowing of the big artery which carries blood to the legs. I suggest a thorough examination by a specialist (internist). You may thereby nip serious trouble before it goes too far.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible. (Copyright, 1965)
